Difficult Women:

Difficult Women Roxane Gay, 2017-01-03 The New York Times bestselling author of Bad Feminist shares a collection of stories about hardscrabble lives, passionate loves, and vexed human connections. The women in these stories live lives of privilege and of poverty, are in marriages both loving and haunted by past crimes or emotional blackmail. A pair of sisters grown now have been inseparable ever since they were abducted together as children and must negotiate the elder sister's marriage. A woman married to a twin pretends not to realize when her husband and his brother impersonate each other. A stripper putting herself through college fends off the advances of an overzealous customer. A black engineer moves to Upper Michigan for a job and faces the malign curiosity of her colleagues and the difficulty of leaving her past behind. From a girl's fight club to a wealthy subdivision in Florida where neighbors conform, compete, and spy on each other, Roxanne Gay delivers a wry, beautiful, haunting vision of modern America with her signature wry wit and piercing psychological depth. Harper's Bazaar Difficult Women on Television Drama Isabel Pinedo, 2021-02-15 Difficult Women on Television Drama analyses select case studies from international TV dramas to examine the unresolved feminist issues they raise or address: equal labor force participation, the demand for sexual pleasure and freedom, opposition to sexual and domestic violence, and the need for intersectional approaches. Drawing on examples from The Killing, Orange Is the New Black, Big Little Lies, Wentworth, Outlander, Westworld, Being Mary Jane, Queen Sugar, Vida, and other television dramas with a focus on complex female characters, this book illustrates how female creative control in key production roles, direct authorship, together with industrial imperatives and a conducive cultural context, indirect authorship, are necessary to produce feminist texts. Placed within the larger context of a rise in feminist activism and political participation by women, the growing embrace of a feminist identity, and the ascendance of post-feminism, this book reconsiders the unfinished nature of feminist struggles and suggests the need for a broader sweep of economic change. This book is a must-read for scholars of media and communication studies, television and film studies, cultural studies, American studies, sociology of gender and sexualities, women and gender studies, and international film, media, and cinema studies.

Challenging Women's Orthodoxies in the Context of Faith Susan Frank Parsons, 2019-07-31 This title was first published in 2000. Most of the papers in this volume were given at a day conference held at Heythrop College, aimed at discussing challenging women's orthodoxies in the context of faith. The book acts as an indication that gender matters in the understanding and living of faith.

No Map Could Show Them Helen Mort, 2016-06-02 A Poetry Book Society Recommendation 2016. When we climb alone, en cordée, feminine, we are magicians of the Alps; we make the routes we follow disappear. The poems of Helen Mort's second collection offer an unforgettable perspective on the heights we scale and the distances we run, the routes we follow and the paths we make for ourselves. Here are odes to the women who dared to break new ground: from Miss Jemima Morrell, a young Victorian woman from Yorkshire who hiked the Swiss Peaks in her skirts and petticoats, to the modern British mountaineer Alison Hargreaves who died descending from the summit of K2 Distinctive and courageous these are poems of passion and precipices of edges and extremes No Map Could Show Them confirms Helen Mort's position as one of the finest young poets at work today Signs of the Literary Times William O'Rourke, 1993-01-01 This book is O'Rourke's first volume of nonfiction since his 1972 The Harrisburg 7 and the New Catholic Left which Garry Wills hailed as a clinical x-ray of our society's condition That book prompted Herbert Mitgang to name O'Rourke one of the finest writers of his generation Signs of the Literary Times provides new evidence for that assessment It brings together O'Rourke's unique mixture of literary political and cultural criticism published periodically during the last twenty two years The collection ranges from autobiographical essays describing his generation's literary evolution to articles on free speech issues such as nude dancing and the Bush era NEA controversies as well as book reviews that provide a fresh and largely uncharted critical map of the period O'Rourke is not only interested in genre bending and expansion but in persevering during this age of academic specialization as in his phrase a person of letters In the two decades between his first work of nonfiction and this volume O'Rourke has published three highly acclaimed novels The Meekness of Isaac 1974 Idle Hands 1981 and Criminal Tendencies 1987 Of the last The Virginia Quarterly Review wrote Of all the novelists paraded in recent years by publishers as natural successors to Graham Greene this one comes the closest A thoroughly entertaining literary event Signs of the Literary Times is not so much a compendium of diverse pieces on various subjects as it is a cogent and continuing x-ray of our society's condition In Praise of Difficult Women Karen Karbo, 2018 Presents information on female rule breakers including Josephine Baker Jane Goodall Margaret Cho and Hillary Rodham Clinton Difficult Women David Plante, 2017-09-26 David Plante's dazzling portraits of three influential women in the literary world now back in print for the first time in decades Difficult Women presents portraits of three extraordinary complicated and yes difficult women while also raising intriguing and in their own way difficult questions about the character and motivations of the keenly and often cruelly observant portraitist himself The book begins with David Plante's portrait of Jean Rhys in her old age when the publication of The Wide Sargasso Sea after years of silence that had made Rhys's great novels of the 1920s and 30s as good as unknown had at last gained genuine recognition for her Rhys however can hardly be said to be enjoying her new fame A terminal alcoholic she curses and staggers and rants like King Lear on the heath in the hotel room that she has made her home while Plante looks impassively on Sonia Orwell is his second subject a suave exploiter and hapless victim of her beauty and social prowess while the unflappable brilliant and impossibly opinionated Germaine Greer sails through the final pages ever ready to set the world and any erring companion right
