Curriculum Development An Integrative Introduction:

Curriculum Evelyn J. Sowell, 2005 For undergraduate and graduate courses in Curriculum Development and or Curriculum Planning Defining curriculum broadly as what is taught in schools this practical text arranges content around two major themes 1 curriculum processes involve decision making by people who are guided by their beliefs and values about what students should learn and 2 curricular change occurs only after individuals have made internal transitions Unlike its competition this text painstakingly bridges curriculum theory to practice exploring ways to develop curriculum implement a curriculum plan and assess a school s curriculum by applying chapter content to sample curriculum projects Through accessible jargon free language and student friendly pedagogy the author shows both how practice informs theory and how use of theory helps educators engage in curriculum tasks appropriately IJER Vol 21-N4 International Journal of Educational Reform, 2012-09-07 The mission of the International Journal of Educational Reform IJER is to keep readers up to date with worldwide developments in education reform by providing scholarly information and practical analysis from recognized international authorities As the only peer reviewed scholarly publication that combines authors voices without regard for the political affiliations perspectives or research methodologies IJER provides readers with a balanced view of all sides of the political and educational mainstream To this end IJER includes but is not limited to inquiry based and opinion pieces on developments in such areas as policy administration curriculum instruction law and research IJER should thus be of interest to professional educators with decision making roles and policymakers at all levels turn since it provides a broad based conversation between and among policymakers practitioners and academicians about reform goals objectives and methods for success throughout the world Readers can call on IJER to learn from an international group of reform implementers by discovering what they can do that has actually worked IJER can also help readers to understand the pitfalls of current reforms in order to avoid making similar mistakes Finally it is the mission of IJER to help readers to learn about key issues in school reform from movers and shakers who help to study and shape the power base directing educational reform in the U S and the world The New School Leader for the 21st Century Edward H. Seifert, James A. Vornberg, 2002-10-16 Veteran educators Seifert and Vornberg utilize the six standards created by the Interstate School Leaders Consortium ISLLIC and used in developing and redesigning preparation programs and state certification examinations to discuss those issues faced by practicing elementary and secondary school principals Each chapter begins with a short case study emanating from a fictitious school district and culminates with student activities that address the concepts discussed in the chapter Questions and activities follow and provide the reader with an opportunity to apply the concepts discussed This design makes it an ideal text for use with principal certification programs offered by higher education units and other alternative certification programs The practice of the principalship is viewed by the authors as a systematic process that addresses the operation of a school as a set of interrelated parts and skills that work together to create a self correcting model of student learning teaching and stakeholder participation An instructor s manual is available as a separate publication
