Agency Uncovered: Archaeological Perspectives on Social Agency Power and Being Human Andrew Gardner, 2012-12-06 This book questions the value of the concept of agency a term used in sociological and philosophical literature to refer to individual free will in archaeology On the one hand it has been argued that previous generations of archaeologists in explaining social change in terms of structural or environmental conditions have lost sight of the real people and reduced them to passive cultural pawns on the other introducing the concept of agency to counteract this can be said to perpetuate a modern Western view of the autonomous individual who is free from social constraints This book discusses the balance between these two opposites using a range of archaeological and historical case studies including European and Asian prehistory classical Greece and Rome the Inka and other Andean cultures While focusing on the relevance of agency theory to archaeological interpretation and using it to create more diverse and open ended accounts of ancient cultures the authors also address the contemporary political and ethical implications of what is essentially a debate about the definition of human nature

The Embarrassment of Being Human Benjamin Boysen, 2024-12-24 With the message that everything in a sense is alive thus allowing us to join forces with new politico ethical communities stretching across human and nonhuman realms the new materialisms have captivated the minds of many academics artists and intellectuals by stressing that it is time to return to a premodern mindset and discard modernity and its concepts of secularization autonomy and finitude The Embarrassment of Being Human not only demonstrates how these magical materialisms are beset by grave theoretical and practical inconsistencies and self contradictions It also demonstrates how their demand for humans to step down and allow for an emancipation of things qualifies the new materialisms as a metaphysics of neoliberalism that reproduces and fortifies the self contradictions rampant in the current neoliberal hegemony While helping us to gain a comprehensive understanding of the tenets of the eerie ills of our epoch the critique of the new materialisms can furthermore inspire us to appreciate how the exact inversion of the new materialist complex amounts to a revitalization of the modern project A revitalization that is critical to think our
