Cold Hit 2004:

Utilizing Forensic Technologies for Unidentified Human Remains George W. Adams, 2015-11-23 In missing and unidentified investigations an abyss of dissonance seems to exist between law enforcement and the community they serve that all too often creates grating wounds that may never heal Utilizing Forensic Technologies for Unidentified Human Remains Death Investigation Resources Strategies and Disconnects bridges this abyss This is the Department of Justice (State of California) Elaine M. Howle, 2010-03 Audit report concerning the Calif Dept of Justice's Missing Persons DNA Program and whether the program is meeting its statutory provisions and efficiently using its funds The missing persons program reached full operation in July 2004 As of the end of Feb 2005 the program had received 799 requests and completed DNA analysis for 261 of them However it is unlikely to complete testing all of the requests it has already received before the fee supporting the program expires Several elements of the missing persons program are sound but the program needs to improve some of its managerial controls There are significant problems with the accuracy of some of the data the program's mgmt information and timekeeping databases contain Ballistic Imaging National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, National Materials Advisory Board, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Committee on Law and Justice, Committee to Assess the Feasibility, Accuracy, and Technical Capability of a National Ballistics Database, 2008-10-10 Ballistic Imaging assesses the state of computer based imaging technology in forensic firearms identification The book evaluates the current law enforcement database of images of crime related cartridge cases and bullets and recommends ways to improve the usefulness of the technology for suggesting leads in criminal investigations It also advises against the construction of a national reference database that would include images from test fires of every newly manufactured or imported firearm in the United States The book also suggests further research on an alternate method for generating an investigative lead to the location where a gun was first sold microstamping the direct imprinting of unique identifiers on firearm parts or ammunition Department of Justice California.
