The Spirit of African Design Sharne Algotsson, Denys Davis, 1996 African design encompasses colours textures patterns styles and traditions varied enough to fuel a range of dazzling home decorating looks Detailed captions identify the design elements in each photograph offering readers ideas for their own home

Decolonising Design in Africa Yaw Ofosu-Asare, 2024-09-30 Decolonising Design in Africa offers a groundbreaking exploration of design education in Africa through a decolonial lens By examining the colonial legacies that have shaped design education in Africa it foregrounds the problematic ways that current pedagogical approaches primarily reflect western values and priorities This book advocates for integrating Indigenous knowledge cultural practices and philosophies into contemporary African design education It spans a wide geographical and temporal range from historical analyses of colonial influences to envisioning decolonised African design futures It delves into diverse aspects including spirituality in design cultural symbolism sustainable practices and the ethical dimensions of decolonising design Pioneering in its interdisciplinary approach the book weaves together theoretical discussions methodological innovations like storytelling and practical strategies for curriculum reform It presents inspiring case studies of designers and educators who are actively decolonising their practices Decolonising Design in Africa is a vital resource for design educators students practitioners and policymakers not just in Africa but worldwide It makes a compelling case for reimagining design education in a more inclusive contextually relevant and socially conscious way The book's ultimate aim is to cultivate a new generation of designers equipped to address the complex challenges of a decolonising world

Designing Worlds Kjetil Fallan, Grace Lees-Maffei, 2016-06 From consumer products to architecture to advertising to digital technology design is an undeniably global phenomenon Yet despite their professed transnational perspective historical studies of design have all too often succumbed to a bias toward Western industrialized nations This diverse but rigorously curated collection recalibrates our understanding of design history reassessing regional and national cultures while situating them within an international context Here contributors from five continents offer nuanced studies that range from South Africa to the Czech Republic all the while sensitive to the complexities of local variation and the role of nation states in identity construction international design law Combining cutting edge research with a practical approach it examines key trends and covers key cases regional and national laws as well as concepts of international design protection In particular the U S framework is compared with the regime of the EU and issues relating to the Hague Agreement are also covered Critical Terms for the Study of Africa Gaurav Desai,Adeline Masquelier,2018-12-07 For far too long the Western world viewed Africa as unmappable terrain a repository for outsiders wildest imaginings This problematic notion has had lingering effects not only on popular impressions of the region but also on the development of the academic study of Africa Critical Terms for the Study of Africa considers the legacies that have shaped our understanding of the continent and its place within the conceptual grammar of contemporary world affairs Written by a distinguished group of scholars the essays compiled in this volume take stock of African studies today and look toward a future beyond its fraught intellectual and political past Each essay discusses one of our most critical terms for talking about Africa exploring the trajectory of its development while pushing its boundaries Editors Gaurav Desai and Adeline Masquelier balance the choice of twenty five terms between the expected and the unexpected calling for nothing short of a new mapping of the scholarly field The result is an essential reference that will challenge assumptions stimulate lively debate and make the past present and future of African Studies accessible to students and teachers alike Nation Branding Keith Dinnie,2015-08-27 Nation Branding Concepts Issues Practice was the ground breaking first textbook to provide an overview of this recently established but fast growing practice in which the principles of brand management are applied to countries rather than companies Many governments have invested in nation branding in order to strengthen their country s influence improve its reputation or boost tourism trade and investment This new edition has been comprehensively revised and its influential original framework modified to reflect the very latest changes to this still developing field It remains an accessible blend of theory and practice rich with international examples and contributions Updates to this edition New international cases of countries as diverse as China United Arab Emirates Ghana Cuba India Great Britain and many more New contributions from distinguished scholars diplomats and businesspeople providing a range of case studies practitioner insights and academic perspectives New Companion Website to support the book featuring instructor aids such as PowerPoint presentations for each chapter and an instructor manual This much anticipated update to an influential book is an essential introduction to nation branding for students and policy makers Design ,1930

Okuwangaala David Stairs,2025-09-09 Okuwangaala the Lugandan Buganda tribe word meaning long livedness or resilience is a work of design research that straddles the domains of African studies Design and Anthropology Its 170 pages and 221 original photographs were assembled and composed over multi year residencies in Africa and all materials are permission free Photos of Africans at work in their day to day environments were taken with permission and compensated Framed as three central sections book ended by an Introduction and a Coda the project argues that African designability has remained intact in spite of the depredations of colonialism The examples of vernacular design were captured and collected by the author during a two year Fulbright research grant followed by two subsequent sabbaticals Throughout the text arguments are made for the viability and imagination of African craftsmen and the universal esteem for DIY design despite the industrialized world s tendency to view Africa both historically and economically as a source of free labor cheap resources and emerging markets The project s three main sections Messages Structures and Objects delineate the many ways Africans influence their societies through signage building and everyday objects The ability to make much with little including the use of repurposed materials demonstrates how non industrial societies not only survive but thrive without exacting the horrific environmental toll of heavy industry And the examples given are emphatically not the work of the famous or celebrated but the efforts of average men and women going about their lives As such the book serves as an early example of design anthropology field work In fact the concluding chapter cites design anthropologist Elizabeth Dori Tunstall s Seven Principles of Design Anthropology on the importance of recognizing that Africans often do not make distinctions between art design and craft as we do in the West
