De Chirico Emily Braun,2014 The unexpected encounter of a rubber glove a green ball and the head from the classical statue gives rise to one of the most compelling paintings in the history of modernist art Giorgio de Chirico's Song of Love 1914 This uncanny image exemplifies what de Chirico called metaphysical painting which creates a disturbing sense of unreality outside the usual logics of space and time through the novel depiction of ordinary things Emily Braun's essay explores the work's enigmatic motifs showing how their roots range from the ancient culture of the Mediterranean through the commercial scenarios de Chirico observed in the streets of Paris in the years around World War I to the work of the avant garde painters and poets of the time The Song of Love continues to captivate viewers as de Chirico intended even a century after it was made Back cover

Giorgio de Chirico James Thrall Soby,Giorgio De Chirico,1955 Giorgio de Chirico Victoria Noel-Johnson,2019-07-25 An innovative analysis of the artistic poetics of the master of metaphysical painting Through a selection of important works made during this master's career this volume aims to conduct a critical revision of the artist's complex practice for the centenary of his so called volte face in 1919 the year he was criticised for leaving metaphysical painting 1910 1918 in favour of styles and techniques inspired by Classicism and the grand masters Edited by the most important experts of De Chirico The Face of Metaphysics promotes an innovative interpretation of the artist's oeuvre both metaphysical where the traditional confines of linear time and space are replaced by the doctrine of cyclical coexistence an arrangement according to themes and not chronology underlines the idea that despite the many changes in style technique and subject composition and colour tone all of De Chirico's works may offer tangible visions of the intangible philosophical concept of Metaphysics advanced by Nietzsche in the late 1800s constant metaphysics Divided into six sections The Eternal Return Metaphysical Exteriors Metaphysical Protagonists Metaphysical Interiors Metaphysical nature Metaphysics Encounters Tradition this volume gathers around 90 works from some of the most prestigious private museums and collections in Italy and from the Fondazione de Chirico and also offers a rich core of archive documents including letters period photos and exhibition catalogues Giorgio de Chirico and America Giorgio De Chirico,1996 Giorgio De Chirico Giorgio De Chirico, De Chirico. Ediz. inglese Magdalena Holzhey,2005 Greek born Italian painter Giorgio De Chirico 1888 1978 was hugely influential in the early years of the Surrealist movement His paintings during the teens in Paris where he moved in 1911 caused such a stir that such important figures as Picasso and Paul Eluard immediately praised them This phase of his work which he later termed pittura metafisica metaphysical painting was marked by dramatic compositions involving sharp perspective striking shadows geometrical planes voids of space and a general feeling of anxiety and loneliness the sense of absurdity evoked by the mannequin like figures in almost nightmarish landscapes seemed to suggest a Freudian expression of the unconscious After 1930 De Chirico turned to a more classical style of painting and continued in the same vein for the rest of his career his later work was widely criticized especially by the Surrealists who had so admired his early paintings

Giorgio de Chirico James Thrall Soby,1966 Cultural Landscapes Gabriel R. Ricci, A dualism between man and nature has been a persistent feature of Western thought and spirituality from ancient times to the present The opposition of mind and body consciousness and world has tended to obscure the ways in which humans are ecologically part of interconnected systems some of which are obvious while others operate in hidden but life sustaining ways Cultural Landscapes explores the physical ways in which we are intimately linked to the land and the intellectual and aesthetic connections human consciousness has with the landscape Following the editor's introductory essay the lead article by Jame Schaeffer Quest for the Common Good A Collaborative Public Theology for a Life Sustaining Climate assesses the lightning rod issue of global warming in the context of a public and ecumenical theology and sets the tone for this normative assessment of our relationship with nature Likewise David Kenley's essay Three Gorges be Dammed The Philosophical Roots of Environmentalism in China reveals the traditional philosophical and cultural values that can sustain a vital environmentalism in the East David Brown's historical insights into the use of the American landscape to define historical writing complement Patricia Likos Ricci's historical treatment of nineteenth century landscape painting and the first call to preserve wilderness in the United States Matt Willen An Feochn and David Martinez What Worlds are Made of The Lakota Sense of Place both demonstrate how space is transformed into place through song and mythic tales On a metaphysical note Andreas Philippopoulos Mihalopolos essay On the Line of the Horizon Anxiety in de Chirico's Metaphysical Spaces provides the reader with psychological and existential insights into the disorienting paintings of de Chirico and Gabriel Ricci's concluding essay tours the landscape that underpins Heidegger's ontological speculations. The contributions to this volume are posited on the belief that culture, society, and human history are ultimately rooted in the natural world. This integration may explain why humanity has always looked to nature for moral and ethical guidelines. Gabriel R. Ricci is associate professor of humanities and the chair of the Department of History at Elizabethtown College in Pennsylvania. He is the author of Time Consciousness: The Philosophical Uses of History published by Transaction.

Italian Modernism Mario Moroni, Luca Somigli, 2004-01-01. Italian Modernism was written in response to the need for an historiographic and theoretical reconsideration of the concepts of Decadentismo and the avant garde within the Italian critical tradition. Focussing on the confrontation between these concepts and the broader notion of international modernism, the essays in this important collection seek to understand this complex phase of literary and artistic practices as a response to the epistemes of philosophical and scientific modernity at the end of the nineteenth century and in the first three decades of the twentieth. Intellectually provocative, this collection is the first attempt in the field of Italian Studies at a comprehensive account of Italian literary modernism. Each contributor documents how previous critical categories employed to account for the literary, artistic, and cultural experiences of the period have provided only partial and inadequate descriptions, preventing a fuller understanding of the complexities and the interrelations among the cultural phenomena of the time.
