What is Respect?

Respect is right evaluation. When we are rightly evaluated, we feel respected. When we are not rightly evaluated, we feel disrespected. Respect is a feeling of deep admiration for someone or something elicited by their abilities, qualities and achievements. It is a way of treating or thinking about something or someone. It is an overarching consideration and represents recognition of each human being's intrinsic value.

Minimum content of Respect (The other is similar to me)

❖ Our purpose is the same
As I have a natural acceptance

❖ Our program is same

Tool,2019-05-03 This is a collection of Marc Tool s essays on institutional economics written over the 1980s Marxism and Christianity Alasdair MacIntyre,1984-03-15 Contending that Marxism achieved its unique position in part by adopting the content and functions of Christianity MacIntyre details the religious attitudes and modes of belief that appear in Marxist doctrine as it developed historically from the philosophies of Hegel and Feuerbach and as it has been carried on by latter day interpreters from Rosa Luxemburg and Trotsky to Kautsky and Lukacs The result is a lucid exposition of Marxism and an incisive account of its persistence and continuing importance The Anglo-Marxists Edwin A. Roberts,1997 In this book Edwin Roberts provides a comparative intellectual history of the development of Marxist theory in Great Britian concentrating on the years between the Great Depression and the Cold War Roberts argues that during this period there developed among university educated intellectuals a distinctively Anglicized form of Marxist theory that prefigured the analytical Marxism so prominent in the English speaking world today Roberts important book explores this school_a precursor to contemporary analytical Marxism_examining key

Ethics of Industrial Man Fred Blum, 2024-11-01 How do people actually experience God Jesus Christ the Kingdom and the Church Does this experience affect their awareness of capitalism socialism competition the relationship of markets to men and their participation in politics Does modern man have an ethical concern First published in 1970 Ethics of Industrial Man explores the interrelationship between people's experience of a deeper reality of life their awareness of society and their participation in it It is usually assumed that religion has lost its impact on the daily life of man This is true inasmuch as most people live their working lives divorced from religiously grounded ethics But the author shows that it ceases to be true if we explore the significance of the universal ground in which all religious awareness and every social order is rooted Using intensive interviews in Great Britain and the United States over a number of years the author gives empirical evidence that the ethical impulse is not absent but is thwarted by the absence of bridges between the socio economic sphere of life and people's ethical awareness Decisive in this connection is the confusion between what is universal and what is historically specific This confusion the author believes underlies the apathy the sense of powerlessness the prevalence of a false consciousness the decline of traditional religious forms It is he concludes the core of the ethical corrosion of our time
