Budapest Diary:

Budapest Diary: In Search of the Motherbook Susan Rubin Suleiman, 2019-08-10 Can you forget the place you once called home What does it take to make you recapture it In this moving memoir Susan Rubin Suleiman describes her returns to the city of her birth where she speaks the language like a native but with an accent Suleiman left Budapest in 1949 as a young child with her parents fleeing communism thirty five years later she returned with her two sons for a brief vacation and began to remember her childhood Her earliest memories of Nazi persecution in the final year of World War II came back to her in fragments as did memories of her first school years after the war and of the stormy marriage between her father a brilliant Talmudic scholar and her mother a cosmopolitan woman from a more secular Jewish family In 1993 after the fall of communism and the death of her mother Suleiman returned to Budapest for a six month stay She recounts her ongoing quest for personal history interweaving it with the stories of present day Hungarians struggling to make sense of the changes in their individual and collective lives Suleiman s search for documents relating to her childhood the lives of her parents and their families and the Jewish communities of Hungary and Poland takes her on a series of fascinating journeys within and outside Budapest Emerging from this eloquent often suspenseful diary is the portrait of an intellectual who recaptures her past and comes into contact with the vital troubling world of contemporary Eastern Europe Suleiman s vivid descriptions of her encounters with a proud old city and its people in a time of historical change remind us that every life story is at once unique and part of a larger history I recommend this autobiographical narrative because it is grave and beautiful Better still it is shatteringly truthful Elie Wiesel Susan Rubin was a little girl when her parents fled through darkened fields to escape the Communist regime in Hungary in 1949 This is a poignant piece of self revelation sprinkled with some trenchant observations on the way the dead hand of history has weighed down the former Warsaw Pact countries Kirkus A fascinating revealing journal brutally honest Publishers Weekly This pensive forthright journal records Suleiman s efforts to reconnect with a long forgotten homeland Booklist Suleiman lyrically describes her quest and the complex interaction of the Eastern Europe of the past and present Boston Globe A tale of survival adaptation and pure luck whose darker side reveals the linguistic and emotional cost of emigration and exile the feeling of permanent displacement of being nowhere at home Forward This story must speak to all those who have fled and who have ever dreamed of a return Independent Jewish Women s Magazine A thoughtful and sophisticated memoir You don t have to be Hungarian or Jewish to appreciate writing like this Montreal Gazette

A Student's Diary László Beke, 1957 István Szabó Susan Rubin Suleiman, 2024-01-25 István Szabó is one of the few Hungarian filmmakers to have earned a major international reputation over the past half century This thoughtful and original book is the first examination of Szabó s contribution to contemporary thought engaging the troubled history of Europe in the 20th and 21st centuries István Szabó s importance as a filmmaker lies not only in his attention to film s formal elements but in his deep and ongoing engagement with some of the most urgent ethical and existential questions of our time With detailed analyses of István Szabó's major films from his 1960s works to his Academy Award for Best Foreign Film winner Mephisto and on through Szabó's last film in 2020 Final Report Susan Rubin Suleiman focuses on four important questions pertaining to existential choice to leave home or to stay in a communist country To collaborate or not with an authoritarian regime To affirm or to deny one's Jewishness in the face of antisemitism To seek or to give up on community in the face of individual or national conflicts Above all Suleiman addresses the single most important philosophical question that haunts Szabó's work as it does that of many other Central European intellectuals and filmmakers of our time That is how do individuals attempt through the life choices they make or that are foisted on them to create a viable self in extreme historical situations over which they have no control

Worlds of Hungarian Writing András Kiséry, Zsolt Komáromy, Zsuzsanna Varga, 2016-05-12 Worlds of Hungarian Writing responds to the rapidly growing interest in Hungarian authors throughout the English speaking world Addressing an international audience the essays in the collection highlight the intercultural contexts that have molded the conventions genres and institutions of Hungarian writing from the nineteenth century to the present They are mapping some of the ways in which a modern literature is produced by encounters with languages cultures and media external to its traditionally conceived boundaries But rather than viewing intercultural exchange as an external force the collection recognizes its enabling importance to the globalizing reception and circulation of Hungarian writing over the continuities and constraints implied by more traditional national narratives Worlds of Hungarian Writing posits intercultural exchange as the very substance of a literary culture Discussions of the politics of appropriation and translation of the impact of migr writers and critics and of the use of world literary models in genre formation complement studies of the fate of western leftist critical theory in post 1989 Hungary of the role of African American models in contemporary Roma culture and of the use of photography in late 20th century prose The volume spans a wide generic range from the achievements of such canonical 19th century critics and poets as József Bajza and János Arany to neglected women authors translators such as Theresa Pulszky to modernist writers and critics like Antal Szerb and György Lukács and to the contemporary novelists Péter Esterházy Péter Nádas and László Krasznahorkai Each essay is an original contribution to comparative literature and to the study of this Central European literature but is intended to be accessible to readers unfamiliar with its traditions

PETER BIALOBRZESKI - BUDAPEST DIARY. ,2023 Budapest diary 1931 László Káldor, 2002 Budapest Blackout Mária Mádi, 2023-08 Mária Mádi 1898-1970 was a Roman Catholic Hungarian physician living in Budapest during World War II Stuck in the city she vowed to become a witness to events as they unfolded and began keeping a diary to chronicle her everyday life as well as the lives of her Jewish neighbors during what would be the darkest periods of the Holocaust From the time Hungary declared war on the United States in December 1941 until she secured an immigrant's visa to the US in late 1946 she wrote nearly daily in English offering current day readers one of the most complete pictures of ordinary life during the Holocaust in Hungary In the form of letters to her American relatives Mádi addressed a wide range of subjects from the fate of small countries like Hungary caught between the major powers of Germany and the Soviet Union to the Nazi pogrom against Budapest's Jews to family news and the price of food. M di's family donated the entire collection of her diaries to the US Holocaust Memorial Museum. This edition transcribes a selection of M di's writings focusing on the period of March 1944 to November 1945 from the Nazi invasion and occupation of Hungary through the Battle of Budapest to the ensuing Soviet occupation. While bearing witness to the catastrophe in Hungary, M di hid a Jewish family in her small flat from October 1944 to February 1945. She received a posthumous Righteous among Nations Medal from Yad Vashem, the World Holocaust Remembrance Center. Editorial commentary by James W. Oberly situates M di's observations and a critical introduction by the Holocaust scholar András L. N. rt outlines the wider sociopolitical context in which her diaries gain meaning.

The Exile and Return of Writers from East-Central Europe John Neubauer, Borbála Zsuzsanna Török, 2009-10-28. This is the first comparative study of literature written by writers who fled from East Central Europe during the twentieth century. It includes not only interpretations of individual lives and literary works but also studies of the most important literary journals, publishers, radio programs, and other aspects of exile literary cultures. The theoretical part of introduction distinguishes between exiles, migrants, and expatriates, while the historical part surveys the pre-twentieth century exile traditions and provides an overview of the exilic events between 1919 and 1995. One section is devoted to exile cultures in Paris, London, and New York, as well as in Moscow, Madrid, Toronto, Buenos Aires, and other cities. The studies focus on the factional divisions within each national exile culture and on the relationship between the various exiled national cultures among each other. They also investigate the relation of each exile national culture to the culture of its host country. Individual essays are devoted to Witold Gombrowicz, Paul Goma, Milan Kundera, Monica Lovinescu, Milo Crnjanski, Herta and Paul Amirian, and to the internal exile of Imre Kertész. Special attention is devoted to the new forms of exile that emerged during the ex-Yugoslav wars and to the problems of homecoming of exiled texts and writers.
