Broken Bodies:

Fresh Fruit, Broken Bodies Seth Holmes, 2013-05-25 Based on five years of research in the field including berry picking and traveling with migrants back and forth from Oaxaca up the West Coast Holmes an anthropologist and MD in the mold of Paul Farmer and Didier Fassin uncovers how market forces anti immigrant sentiment and racism undermine health and health care From publisher description

Broken Bones, Broken Bodies Debra L. Martin, Caryn E. Tegtmeier, 2017-07-14 Injury recidivism is a continuing health problem in the modern clinical setting and has been part of medical literature for some time However it has been largely absent from forensic and bioarchaeological scholarship despite the fact that practitioners work closely with skeletal remains and in many cases skeletal trauma The contributors to this edited collection seek to close this gap by exploring the role that injury recidivism and accumulative trauma plays in bioarchaeological and forensic contexts Case examples from prehistoric historic and modern settings are included to highlight the avenues through which injury recidivism can be studied and analyzed in skeletal remains and to illustrate the limitations of studying injury recidivism in deceased populations

Sorrow of War Louis Golding, 1919 Prayer Marilyn Kielbasa, 2002 Prayer Celebrating and Reflecting with Girls provides ideas for community prayer services and suggestions for enriching girls personal prayer lives Twenty three experiences rich in symbol and ritual are designed to put the hearts and minds of adolescent girls in touch with the sacred Themes include discernment nature wisdom friendship peace brokenness heritage life s burdens and saying yes to God

Awareness of Suffering Andrea Veltman, 2026-02-19 Do we have a responsibility to inform ourselves of suffering and injustice This book examines this question and more while arguing that awareness of suffering is an essential but indeterminate moral responsibility of the mind

Lake Michigan Daniel Borzutzky, 2018-04-04 Finalist for the 2019 Griffin Poetry Prize From the author of The Performance of Becoming Human winner of the National Book Award for poetry Lake Michigan a series of 19 lyric poems imagines a prison camp located on the beaches of a Chicago that is privatized racially segregated and overrun by a brutal police force Thinking about the ways in which economic policy racism and militarized policing combine to shape the city Lake Michigan s poems continue exploring the themes from Borzutzky s Performance of Becoming Human winner of the National Book Award for Poetry But while the influences in this book C saire Vallejo Neruda are international the focus here is local as the book takes a hard look at neoliberal urbanism in the historic city of Chicago

Homeless Advocacy and the Rhetorical Construction of the Civic Home Melanie Loehwing, 2018-10-04 Homeless assistance has frequently adhered to the three hots and a cot model which prioritizes immediate material needs but may fail to address the political and social exclusion of people experiencing homelessness In this study Loehwing reconsiders typical characterizations of homelessness citizenship and democratic community through unconventional approaches to homeless advocacy and assistance While conventional homeless advocacy rhetoric establishes the urgency of homeless suffering it also implicitly invites housed publics to understand homelessness as a state of abnormality that destines the individuals suffering it to life outside the civic body In contrast Loehwing focuses on atypical models of homeless advocacy the meal sharing initiatives of Food Not Bombs the international competition of the Homeless World Cup and the annual Homeless Persons Memorial Day campaign She argues that these modes of unconventional homeless advocacy provide rhetorical exemplars of a type of inclusive and empowering civic discourse that is missing from conventional homeless advocacy and may be indispensable for overcoming homeless marginalization and exclusion in contemporary democratic culture Loehwing's interrogation of homeless advocacy rhetorics demonstrates how discursive practices shape democratic culture and how they may provide a potential civic remedy to the harms of disenfranchisement discrimination and displacement This book will be welcomed by scholars whose work focuses on the intersections of democratic theory and rhetorical and civic studies as well as by homelessness advocacy groups

Trinitarian

Responses to Worldliness Heejun Yang, 2022-07-11 Are you a seminarian scholar who wants to go further from your school's Barthian tradition The purpose of this book is to connect cutting edge post Barthian trinitarian theological movements all around the world postliberal theology Yale school in the US radical orthodoxy Cambridge school in the UK German radical hermeneutic theology Zurich school in the German speaking world and the theology of inculturation Korean Methodist school in Asia Although each theological movement had a tremendous impact on the entire area of theology there has been no work done to connect those twenty first century theological trends The strength of this book is that it connects different theological movements with the author's own unique view as a Korean theologian Comparing different Trinitarian theological movements the author argues for the necessity of a God focused theology to embrace different human understandings in a world where Christianity is not dominant The book claims that Christians can pursue a genuine dialectics of differentiation and interdependence when they understand the global phenomenon of Christianity's inculturation as the work of the Trinity who relates Godself to different worldly cultures

Witnessing a Wounded World

Timothy Middleton, 2025-11-04 A crucial intervention at the intersection of ecotheology and trauma theology We are in the midst of a global ecological crisis At times the scale of the suffering involved can be hard to fully comprehend The whole planetary ecosystem feels out of kilter Meanwhile trauma theorists and society at large have become increasingly aware of the incidence of trauma in a growing variety of contexts In Witnessing a Wounded World Timothy Middleton asks what might be gained by viewing ecological suffering through the lens of trauma By bringing concepts and methodologies from trauma theology to bear on questions that arise within ecotheology Middleton engages a series of pressing questions What kind of traumas are being precipitated by anthropogenic climate change and accelerating biodiversity loss What would it mean to envisage the Earth itself as traumatized And how might a Christian theologian respond From large scale deforestation and opencast mining to rampaging wildfires and fracturing ice sheets the Earth itself is subject to intense devastation Witnessing a Wounded World analyzes such phenomena in terms of three traumatic ruptures to communication to flesh and to time Drawing on practices of witnessing and the insights of deep incarnation Christologies Middleton proceeds to offer a theological account of this ecological trauma For Christians a model of Christic witnessing can bring the Earth s suffering to light As the first sustained treatment of ecological trauma to address the trauma of the Earth itself Witnessing a Wounded World makes a profound contribution to discussions of suffering faith and the present ecological emergency Witnessing a Wounded World is available from the publisher on an open access basis

What Job's Friends Could Have Done Stephen Torr,2025-08-19 In a world that is becoming more aware of the impact of traumatic experiences on the lives of individuals the church is faced with the challenge of examining how to do life well together in a way that helps rather than hinders those who are living in the aftermath of trauma Beginning with the question of what Job s friends could have done differently to help Job in the midst of his suffering the present work draws on Kevin Vanhoozer s theodramatic model and the Object Relations Theory of British pediatrician and psychoanalyst Donald Winnicott to provide biblically rooted guidance for developing a trauma sensitive church In bringing these perspectives together exploration takes place into what it means to be made in the image of God in the theodrama and what the church s role is in enabling the christological form of this image to take shape in each individual particularly in the aftermath of individual trauma The work of Winnicott provides fresh insight into how this development might be facilitated by the church within the theodrama of salvation
