Contemporary Economic Issues In Developing Countries:

Contemporary Economic Issues in Developing Countries John Baffoe-Bonnie, Mohammed Khayum, 2003-04-30
Important lessons for policy makers are provided here as contributors evaluate the effectiveness of domestic economic policies and the recommendations of international organizations such as the World Bank regarding the economic development of developing countries Challenges posed by debt problems corruption population dynamics poverty and the absence of adequate human and physical capital are highlighted Contributors cast doubts on the conclusions of the prevailing theories of economic development with patterns of economic change over the course of the 20th century Their findings point out the issue of inadequate social capability as a critical factor in understanding the lack of economic development in many developing countries They suggest that contemporary theorizing tends to pinpoint necessary but insufficient conditions for the successful implementation of development strategies in these countries Contemporary Issues in Development Economics B. N. Ghosh, 2001 This new collection of articles puts the very latest issues in economic development under the microscope exploring them from a variety of perspectives Beginning with an assessment of the current state of play in development the authors move forward to examine neglected issues such as human development gender brain drain military expenditure and post colonial theory While analysing the problems of external debts technology transfer and new theories of international trade the relationship between developing and developed economies is fully explored The book also examines the important topics of financial reform structural adjustments and the role of the IMF in the new financial architecture The highly respected contributors subject these critical issues to thorough analysis with suggestions towards resolving some of these problems making this an indispensable book that researchers and students of development economics cannot afford to miss

Research on Characteristic Issues in Current Developing Economies
Xiaochun Li, Yunyun Wu, 2024-10-22 This is the first book that uses the Harris Todaro H T model to study contemporary economic issues in developing countries with a particular focus on China The zenith of research utilizing this model occurred in the 1990s primarily addressing the impact of economic policies during labor migration on wages and employment across various sectors international trade urban unemployment rates and social welfare After nearly four decades research in this area gradually faded from the spotlight Post 2010 however there has been a resurgence in H T model studies Scholars have begun using this model to explore contemporary issues revealing unprecedented insights and showcasing its robust applicability and vitality The book features 13 papers authored by contributors since 2018 each utilizing the H T model and published in various academic journals It delves into pivotal issues of contemporary economic development in developing countries like China including dual agricultural economy producer services foreign direct investment agricultural pollution migrant workers remittances and agricultural human capital investment The book constructs general equilibrium models by integrating these topics with the H T model providing a framework to assess the impact of economic policies

Methodologically it goes beyond conventional approaches by introducing constant elasticity of substitution functions and other methods to precisely express contemporary economic problems Numerical simulations to examine the impact of economic policies are also used Beyond presenting solutions to the current economic problems in developing countries this book provides academic references for economic theory researchers Contemporary Economic Issues: Macroeconomics and finance International Economic Association.
