Colored Women Sittin' on High Melanie R. Hill, 2025-04-23 From blue note turmoil to grace note power Black women preachers stand tall In Colored Women Sittin on High Melanie R Hill offers a new perspective on the art of the sermon in African American literature music and theology Drawing on the womanist cadence of Alice Walker in literature and the rhythmical flow of named womanist theologians Hill makes interventions at the intersections of African American literary criticism music and religious studies Pushing against the patriarchal dominance that often exists in religious spaces Hill argues that Black women s religious practice creates a sermonic space that thrives inside and outside the church allowing for a critique of sexism and anti Black racism She examines literature by writers such as Zora Neale Hurston and James Baldwin music by Aretha Franklin and Ms Lauryn Hill and sermons by theologians Ruby Sales and Vashti M McKenzie and she takes readers into a sermonic artwork of artists preachers and freedom movement activists who are as Hill contends the greatest virtuosic alchemists of our time

Black Resonance Emily J. Lordi, 2013-11-08 Ever since Bessie Smith s powerful voice conspired with the race records industry to make her a star in the 1920s African American writers have memorialized the sounds and theorized the politics of black women s singing In Black Resonance Emily J Lordi analyzes writings by Richard Wright Ralph Ellison James Baldwin Gayl Jones and Nikki Giovanni that engage such iconic singers as Bessie Smith Billie Holiday Mahalia Jackson and Aretha Franklin Focusing on two generations of artists from the 1920s to the 1970s Black Resonance reveals a musical literary tradition in which singers and writers faced with similar challenges and harboring similar aims developed comparable expressive techniques Drawing together such seemingly disparate works as Bessie Smith s blues and Richard Wright s neglected film of Native Son Mahalia Jackson s gospel music and Ralph Ellison s Invisible Man each chapter pairs one writer with one singer to crystallize the artistic practice they share lyricism sincerity understatement haunting and the creation of a signature voice In the process Lordi demonstrates that popular female singers are not passive muses with raw natural or ineffable talent Rather they are experimental artists who innovate black expressive possibilities right alongside their literary peers The first study of black music and literature to centralize the music of black women Black Resonance offers new ways of reading and hearing some of the twentieth century s most beloved and challenging voices
