Planning, Implementing, and Evaluating Targeted Communication Programs William D. Crano, Gary W. Selnow, 1987-06-23 This book is well documented well written well researched and is up to date It is non sexist It is more than a manual for business communicators It is more than a book of how to s And it is more than a book of do s and don ts The authors and contributors skillfully draw upon a broad range of social sciences literature and their personal communication experience both of which make this book invaluable in our understanding of the relationship between communication theory and practice Beyond that they offer clear guidelines for effective public communication Public Relations Review This book discusses the strategy of targeted communication and explains the steps necessary to plan and implement an effective information program Selnow and Crano both place their recommendations in a communication theory and research perspective and show them to have practical application in real world programs They deal not only with the how to s but with the why s as well

Entrepreneurial Science Robert F. Johnston, 1987-09-22 Johnston and Edwards propose that high technology will be at the heart of the United States economy as it enters the 21st century They also state that small business will be the key to the expansion of the United States economy in the year 2000 In this volume the authors analyze some significant trends that tend to support their proposals Drawing upon case studies from the bio technology and microelectronics industries they discuss how changing the relationship between industry universities and the government is encouraging an entrepreneurial way of thinking Business Library Newsletter Management strategy now is the management of continuous change and this timely book provides an in depth view of the remarkable opportunities that will be present for those who understand its message D Bruce Merrifield Assistant Secretary for Productivity Technology and Innovation U S Department of Commerce Entrepreneurial Science is a provocative analysis of some of the most significant new trends in the high technology based economy Authors Johnston and Edwards use case studies from the biotechnology and microelectronics industries to illustrate how the traditional relationships between industry universities and the government are shifting towards new entrepreneurial relationships that will have significant and lasting effects on the U S economy Demonstrating that the entrepreneurial firm is better equipped to develop the early stages of technology than the large company they contend that both individuals and corporations must adapt to an entrepreneurial way of thinking if they are to compete successfully in the marketplace over the next decade Drawing heavily upon their own considerable experience in the biotechnology industry Johnston and Edwards fully discuss such emerging trends as the commercialization of the university innovative regional technology development programs the links between small entrepreneurial firms and university laboratories and the collaboration between large research based corporations and startup companies As they clearly illustrate each of these trends is related and all will work together to radically alter the traditional path by which a product gets from the laboratory bench to the marketplace Corporate managers entrepreneurs public policy experts and university administrators will find this book an indispensable aid as they plan for the future in their own institutions

The ASTD Reference Guide to Professional Human Resource Development Roles and Competencies William J. Rothwell, Henry J. Sredl, 1992 The Marketer's Guide to Media Vehicles, Methods, and Options Ann Grossman, 1987-10-20 The Marketer's Guide to Media Vehicles Methods and Options is an unusually practical hands on reference source written for marketing advertising and promotion professionals to use in conjunction with their daily work Designed as a convenient desk top manual this is an informative guide to the use of media vehicles Ann Grossman covers the traditional broadcast print and out of home media formats and sales promotions as well as the increasingly used methods of direct marketing and telemarketing In addition she details production tools and steps in the use of each of these media

The Control of Municipal Budgets David Merriman, 1987-11-13 The first comprehensive analysis of the design and effects of tax and expenditure limitations TELs The Control of Municipal Budgets shows how limitation measures have worked and offers practical guidelines for analyzing and designing such programs under current economic and political conditions Looking first at the characteristics of different types of TELs Merriman discusses the various ways in which limitations may be imposed He next reviews the history and current status of TELs beginning with control efforts imposed more than a century ago and comments on the long range consequences of such measures He examines conventional government budgeting models those not governed by TELs and then develops a model for government behavior under a TEL that will enable decisionmakers and analysts to understand how the effects of a TEL are related to its design In an analysis of New Jersey's Cap Law the author applies the analytical model to a concrete instance and presents new evidence on specific effects of TEL programs
