An Adventure With Children:

Risk in Children's Adventure Literature Elly McCausland, 2024-05-31 Risk in Children's Adventure Literature examines the way in which adults discuss the reading and entertainment habits of children and with it the assumption that adventure is a timeless and stable constant whose meaning and value is self evident A closer enquiry into British and American adventure texts for children over the past 150 years reveals a host of complexities occluded by the term and the ways in which adults invoke adventure as a means of attempting to get to grips with the nebulous figure of the child Writing about adventure also necessitates writing about risk and this book argues that adults have historically used adventure to conceptualise the relationship between children and risk the risks children themselves pose to society the risks that threaten their development and how they can be trained to manage risk in socially normative and desirable ways Tracing this tendency back to its development and consolidation in Victorian imperial romance and forward through various adventure texts and media to the present day this book probes and investigates the truisms and assumptions that underlie our generalisations about children's love for adventure and how they have evolved since the mid nineteenth century

British Children's Adventure Novels in the Web of Colonialism Nilay Erdem Ayyıldız, 2018-10-09 This book fills a remarkable void in literary studies which has escaped the attention of many researchers It interrogates the extent to which nineteenth century children's adventure novels justify and perpetuate the British Imperialist ideology of the period In doing so it begins with providing a historical background of children's literature and nineteenth century British imperialism It then offers a theoretical framework of postcolonial reading to decipher the colonial discourse employed in the selected children's adventure novels As such the book offers postcolonial readings of R M Ballantyne's The Coral Island 1858 W H G Kingston's In the Wilds of Africa 1871 and H R Haggard's King Solomon's Mines 1885 It will appeal to students academicians and researchers in fields such as postcolonialism children's literature and British Imperialism
