Circles Of Harm:

Circle in the Square: Building Community and Repairing Harm in School Nancy Riestenberg, 2013-11 The Boundary of Harm: How the Self Creates Ethics Jalal Hazrat Khan, 2026-03-13 A philosophical work on the structural nature of ethics developed from observations in a Dutch AZC refugee camp The central thesis Where the Self ends harm begins Ethics emerge not from abstract moral rules but from the boundaries of belonging we draw between us and them The book proposes three laws Selfishness as Integrity the drive to preserve the circle of the Self Continuation as Expansion the imperative to grow the circle Necessity as Response the mandatory repair when the circle is breached Written 2025 in an AZC camp in the Netherlands composed on a mobile phone during months of isolation and observation This work challenges traditional moral philosophy by grounding ethics in belonging rather than commandments arguing that expanding our circle of inclusion is the only reliable path to reducing harm

20 Embodied Practices for Healing Trauma and Addiction Jan Winhall, 2025-03-18 Trauma and addiction heal in tandem with this paradigm shifting approach What if addiction dissociation and other manifestations of trauma were not framed as diseases or disorders but rather as adaptive methods of regulating the autonomic nervous system ANS This book takes that approach and guides readers through 20 embodied practices that promote the rewiring of the ANS By integrating the latest neuroscience from Stephen Porges s Polyvagal Theory with Eugene Gendlin s embodied felt sense Jan Winhall s Felt Sense Polyvagal Model is a paradigm shifting deeply somatic approach to healing trauma and addiction Readers are presented with two vital tools for healing learning how to recognize and rewire their autonomic state and finding the felt sense of somatic wisdom This compassionate and inviting model centers the intelligence of the body to allow for deep healing and these 20 step by step exercises present an accessible approach for clinicians their clients and anyone on the journey to healing from trauma and addiction The book s exercises are uniquely designed to be completed either with a mental health professional another person engaged in this embodied process a felt sense partner or both

Developing Culturally Responsive Learning Environments in Postsecondary Education R. Jason Lynch, Charmion B. Rush, 2024-01-26 This book addresses the need for culturally relevant teaching practices in diverse US colleges It features 23 chapters on educator cultural competence 21st century student experiences responsive teaching and curriculum transformation The book includes practical strategies and case scenarios to support student success and honor diversity

Circles of Harm Kate Cairns, 2010-01-02 Children Who Survived a School Shooting and Chose to Teach Michelle Markert-Porter, 2025-09-22 Written from the first person perspective of a Columbine shooting survivor this book documents the experiences of a group of school shooting survivors who went on to become teachers More than 25 years after the shooting on April 20 1999 at Columbine High School the policies and practices in place to prevent school shootings do not seem to be working In fact school shootings have increased since 1999 and continue to increase Through a phenomenological study of the author s own experiences as well as 11 other Columbine survivors who went on to become teachers this book examines how surviving a school shooting has impacted every aspect of their personal and professional lives The participants offer ideas and suggestions on how to decrease school shootings sharing candid stories about bullying at Columbine as well as the ways that teachers helped save their lives on the day of the shooting and their views on the idea of arming teachers The book concludes with recommendations for survivor informed best practices for US schools adding an essential and often overlooked perspective to the debate around making teachers responsible for preventing school shootings A forward looking and unique addition to the conversation about school shootings this book is an essential resource for researchers faculty scholars and post graduate students with interests in education criminology school shootings restorative justice trauma studies suicide prevention and bullying

Human Rights and Drug Control Saul Takahashi,2016-08-11 It has become almost accepted knowledge within international policy circles that efforts against drug trafficking and drug abuse violate human rights and that the entire international drug control regime needs to be changed or even discarded altogether to adopt a more rights respecting approach Though this view has been promoted by many prominent figures and organisations the author of this book uses his expertise in both human rights and drug control to show that the arguments advanced in this area do not stand close scrutiny The arguments are in fact based on selective and questionable interpretations of international human rights standards and on a general notion more and more clearly stated that there is a human right to take drugs and that any effort to combat drug abuse by definition violates this right There is no such right in international law and the author objects to the misuse of human rights language as a marketing tool to bring about a back door legalisation of drugs Human rights issues must be addressed but that in no way means that the international drug control regime must be discarded or that efforts against drugs must be stopped
