snippets from Mick Woiwod's fictional but faithful novel The Last Cry along with his Yarra Valley anthropology and reconciliatory vision. Surveying and selling off the Yarra and Diamond Valley badlands stringybark forest leads into discussions on sorcery, smallpox, and culture collapse into fringe dwelling. The frontier moves on north west and east and the tone changes to academic political and biographic studies of Aboriginal workers and surviving kooris including the life and times of Wurundjeri clan heads Billibellary, Simon Wonga, and William Barak. In the decades after World War 2, academic historical analysis led to the politicized history wars as a reaction to the racist colonial white Australia policy, lies, fears, and distortions cloaked by denial and patriotism. Echo 49: THE NATIVE POLICE Turncoats or adaptation is the largest echo in this Sounding and the question is posed in five parts, the last being Irish observer Claire Dunne on applying the bloody colonial lessons of Port Phillip to frontier Queensland and beyond to Central Australia's mass murderer Constable Willshire and the cultural logic of settler nationalism. Echoes follow on re-visioning Aboriginal white history and historical geography research of high country clans and language groups in my unsatisfied search of a supposed superior tribe in the Alps who reportedly dwelt in stone houses all year round. Sounding 3 ends with echoes titled COLONIAL OBSERVATIONS OF HIGH SOCIETY EMIGRANTS containing Georgina and her son George McCrae's journals of Yarra side and pioneering the Mornington peninsula in the 1840s along with early 1860s photographs of native people collected by gentleman squatter John Hunter Kerr.

Possession Bain Attwood, 2015-02-04 It contemplates why these agreements were forged, how the Aboriginal people understood their terms, why government repudiated them, and how settlers claimed to be the rightful owners of the land. Bain Attwood also reveals the ways in which the settler society has endeavoured to make good its act of possession by repeatedly creating histories that have recalled or repressed the memory of Batman, the treaties, and the Aborigines' destruction and dispossession, and charts how Aboriginal people have unsettled this matter of history through their remembering.
