About Face:

About Face Christopher L. Flanders, 2011-03-07 For Thais face is a fact writes Flanders However whether in theology evangelism or issues involving sin salvation or atonement Thai Christians and missionaries alike seem either uninterested in or possibly incapable of addressing issues related to face This glaring incongruity between the value of face for Thais and the lack of intentional engagement within the Thai Christian community is deeply troubling Surely such a lack of careful attention to face is a dangerous posture Uncritical views of face furtively attaching to the theology of the Thai church are potentially detrimental for its life and mission Such seems to be an unavoidable situation without proper attention to face Additionally to ignore face is to run the risk of missing valuable cultural resources implicit in the Thai experience of face for the critical task of authentic Thai theological reflection This lack of engagement with face raises critical issues with which we must wrestle How is it that such a central sociocultural issue has not been a more significant part of the Thai Christian vocabulary or experience How pervasive are these negative attitudes regarding face What lies behind them Might this lack of self conscious engagement with face have any relationship to the persistent Thai perception of Christianity as a foreign Western religion How should Christians understand this notion of face and how it relates to the ways we understand and proclaim the gospel

About Face Jonathan Cole, 1999-02-18 What is special about the face and what happens when neurological conditions make expression or comprehension of the face unavailable Through a mix of science autobiography case studies and speculation Jonathan Cole shows the importance not only of facial expressions for communication among individuals but also of facial embodiment for our sense of self He presents in his words a natural history of the face and an unnatural history of those who live without it The heart of the book lies in the experiences of people with facial losses of various kinds The case studies are of blind autistic and neurologically impaired persons the most extreme case involves Mobius syndrome in which individuals are born with a total inability to move their facial muscles and hence to make facial expressions Cole suggests that it is only by studying such personal narratives of loss that we can understand facial function and something of what all our faces reflect
