micro enterprises is strengthening their participation in the fisheries and aquatic resources management councils of Banate Bay and Southern Iloilo. The experiences of the pilot project also suggest that in order to make various income generating livelihood initiatives sustainable and stand on their own feet many of these need to develop further into full fledged micro enterprises. Considerable scope lies in farming of aquatic organisms such as seaweed shellfish and various fish species as well as in fisheries related value adding activities such as fish processing and marketing. As far as the relationship between the conservation of aquatic resources and the generation of income is concerned the quality of the aquatic environment and the economic success of mariculture micro enterprises and activities are directly related. This should create a strong motivation for fisherfolk entrepreneurs involved in such type of enterprises to be strong advocates and stewards of a healthy coastal ecology. In the long term fisherfolk will benefit from the development of various micro enterprise initiatives. It is clearly in their interest.
