Liquid Scripture Jeffrey S. Siker, 2017-09-01 The electronic Bible is here to stay packaged in software on personal computers available as apps on tablets and cell phones Increasingly students look at glowing screens to consult the Bible in class and congregants do the same in Bible study and worship Jeffrey S Siker asks what difference does it make to our experience of Scripture if we no longer hold a book in our hands if we again scroll through Scripture How does the flow of electronic Scripture change our perception of the Bible's authority and significance Siker discusses the difference made when early Christians adopted the codex rather than the scroll and Gutenberg began the mass production of printed Bibles He also reviews the latest research on how the reading brain processes digital texts and how churches use digital Bibles including American Bible Society research and his own surveys of church leaders Siker asks does the proliferation of electronic translations reduce the perceived seriousness of Scripture Does it promote an individualistic response to the Bible How does the change from a physical Bible affect liturgical practice His synthesis of the advantages and risks of the digitized Bible merit serious reflection in classrooms and churches alike

Biblical Studies on the Internet Roland H. Worth, Jr., 2008-09-18 The new edition includes more than 4 800 resources available at more than 10 000 Internet sites that provide information on a range of biblical study topics including Bible translations in English and other languages audio translations of the Bible in English and other languages commentaries dictionaries and other resource materials including ones in Greek Hebrew and other ancient languages The author also has adopted a new method of referencing and cataloging the most widely used web pages to facilitate a major expansion of resources without increasing the physical length of the book itself In cases when ten or more resources are listed on a single web page the author has assigned the web page a three digit code The code is used to identify this web page as a major resource within the main text while any needed instructions for use of the site are cross referenced separately in the final chapter In adopting this concise method the author was able to add hundreds of additional or updated web resources a surprising number of which can be downloaded onto a hard drive for immediate and continued use

"Am I My Brother's Keeper?" Mark W. Scarlata, 2013-05-14 In a wide ranging meditation on the Cain and Abel narrative Mark Scarlata draws out theological motifs relevant to Christian discipleship in a modern Western context Taking his cue from Augustine's City of God Scarlata brings to light what it means for a Christian to be a citizen of the heavenly city in this midst of a twenty first century globalized society He argues that Christians can no longer think of discipleship merely as a personal individual undertaking but must recognize their role and responsibility as citizens in a global community Each chapter raises questions like How do we offer our best in worship when we live in a world driven by consumerism How can we love others through our participation in the global economy Are our lifestyles treating the environment in a way that is pleasing to God And how do we authentically connect to each other in a digital age of social media and mobile technology

These and other issues are addressed in relation to scenes from the Cain and Abel story Each discussion highlights ancient Jewish and Christian interpretation as well as how a particular topic is understood within the broader context of the Old and New Testaments Scarlata then offers ways that Christians might respond to the cultural shifts experienced by this generation and encourages readers to rethink what it means to be a citizen of God's kingdom with a local and global awareness in every aspect of life

African Pedagogy Elizabeth W. Mburu, S. Trevor Yoakum, 2026-02-28 In this groundbreaking work Dr Elizabeth W Mburu and Dr S Trevor Yoakum present a new pedagogy for African higher education Traditionally theological education has followed learning theories developed in the West which have failed to address the specific challenges faced by African learners Exploring philosophies of education and developing a new pedagogical approach Mburu and Yoakum engage with the concept of fusion which is the creative combination of African teaching methods within institutional education This fusion is built upon the principles of orality in communication theory Deeply practical and insightful the book also provides exercises in lesson planning for African pedagogy in the classroom This is a must read for theological educators and students in search of truly contextual African teaching methods
