Along The Royal Roads To Angkor:

Along the Royal Roads to Angkor Yoshiaki Ishizawa, 2001 The Royal Road to Romance Richard Halliburton, 1925
When Richard Halliburton graduated from college he chose adventure over a career traveling the world with almost no money. The Royal Road to Romance chronicles what happened as a result from a breakthrough Matterhorn ascent to being jailed for taking forbidden pictures on Gibraltar. Halliburton's literary career developed out of his meticulous logging of events that occurred on his own adventures. This book his first an account of his travels in 1921-23 was a best seller for three years and was translated into 15 languages.

Mona Lisa's Escort Herman Lebovics, 1999. Traveling in a First Class Cabin on the luxury liner France early in 1963 the Western world's most famous painting sailed across the Atlantic on its maiden voyage to the United States. The goodwill generated by the loan eased U.S. French relations which had soured over tensions stemming from the cold war. The mastermind behind the Mona Lisa's triumphant tour was France's newly appointed minister of cultural affairs Andre Malraux. In this book Herman Lebovics recounts how Malraux's brilliant foray into the realm of diplomacy was but one example of his efforts to employ France's cultural heritage in the service of a renewed national grandeur.

Heritage and Tourism Russell Staiff, Robyn Bushell, Steve Watson, 2013-06-26. The complex relationship between heritage places and people in the broadest sense can be considered dialogic a communicative act that has implications for both sides of the conversation. This is the starting point for Heritage and Tourism. However the dialogue between visitors and heritage sites is complex. Visitors have for many decades become synonymous with tourists and the tourism industry and so the dialogic relationship between heritage place and tourists has produced a powerful critique of this often contested relationship. Further at the heart of the dialogic relationship between heritage places and people is the individual experience of heritage where generalities give way to particularities of geography place and culture where anxieties about the past and the future mark heritage places as sites of contestation sites of silences sites rendered political and ideological sites powerfully intertwined with representation sites of the imaginary and the imagined. Under the aegis of the term dialogues the heritage tourism interaction is reconsidered in ways that encourage reflection about the various communicative acts between heritage places and their visitors and the ways these are currently theorized so as to either step beyond where possible the ontological distinctions between heritage places and tourists or to re-imagine the dialogue or both. Heritage and Tourism is thus an important contribution to understanding the complex relationship between heritage and tourism.
