

Traditional Assessment versus Alternative Assessment

| Traditional Assessment | Alternative Assessment | What Makes it Authentic |
|---|---|--|
| Isolations of skills, focus on facts | A range of skills/knowledge need to be integrated in order to solve a problem. | Tasks are multi-step and multifaceted. |
| Easily scored | Includes complex tasks for which there may not be a right answer. | Meaningful assessment and feedback is emphasized. |
| “One shot” approach | Iterative in nature. | Knowledge and skills are used in more than one way. |
| Given a score | Opportunity to provide diagnostic feedback. | Designed to give practical experience and improve future performance. |

Alternative Assessment The Language Of Literature:

Alternative Perspectives in Assessing Children's Language and Literacy Kathleen Holland, David Bloome, Judith Solsken, 1994-08 One of the realities of educational practice in the late 20th century is the increasing role of assessment especially of children's oral and written language While there are many issues and problems surrounding this assessment one problem that needs to be addressed is the lack of alternative ways of assessing children's language and literacy for K-12 practitioners There are many ways to approach the assessment of language and literacy How one approaches the assessment of oral and written language depends in large part on how language is defined and on what purposes language is viewed as serving In this book alternative ways of assessing language are based on three different perspectives defining language and its uses anthropological socio-psycholinguistic and literary Although applying these perspectives to language is not new only recently have educators and others taken seriously the need for assessment of language to be consistent with the perspectives of language underlying classroom instruction Simply put as language education including reading writing and oral language becomes increasingly based upon anthropological socio-psycholinguistic and literary principles the assessment of language and literacy must also be based upon such principles This book discusses and illustrates how to reconceptualize assessment in terms of the alternative perspectives outlined here

Designing Second Language Performance Assessments John M. Norris, 1998 This volume focuses on the decision making potential provided by second language performance assessments The authors first situate performance assessment within a broader discussion of alternatives in language assessment and in educational assessment in general They then discuss issues in performance assessment design implementation reliability and validity Finally they present a prototype framework for second language performance assessment based on the integration of theoretical underpinnings and research findings from the task-based language teaching literature the language testing literature and the educational measurement literature The authors outline test and item specifications and they present numerous examples of prototypical language tasks They also propose a research agenda focusing on the operationalization of second language performance assessments

English as a Lingua Franca for EFL Contexts Nicos C. Sifakis, Natasha Tsantila, 2018-10-26 This book explores the interfaces of English as a Lingua Franca (ELF) and English as a Foreign Language (EFL) pedagogy It presents the theoretical aspects of ELF discusses issues and challenges that ELF raises for the EFL classroom and demonstrates how EFL practitioners can make use of ELF theorizing for classroom instruction teacher education developing language learning materials policymaking and testing and assessment Accounts of innovative and practical pedagogical practices and researchers insights from diverse geographical cultural and institutional contexts will inform and inspire EFL practitioners to reconsider their practices and adopt new techniques in order to meet their learners diverse communicative needs in international contexts

Using Alternative Assessment to Improve EFL Learners' Learning Achievement Hoàng Yen Phuong, Thi Van Su Nguyen, 2019 This book is an effort to review the theoretical framework for the use of alternative assessment in EFL contexts and provides a collection of empirical research on alternative assessment for different groups of EFL learners in various classrooms The aim of the book is not to simply review the past literature on alternative assessment in EFL rather it aims to evaluate current language policy reforms in which opportunities for alternative assessment are incorporated Recent developments and possibilities for alternative assessment implementation in specific language skills are encouraged The book provides empirical findings specific to certain sub skills using alternative assessment strategies in EFL Both the theoretical framework and the insights and implications from the empirical research described in the book will make alternative assessment more accessible to language teachers in the most relevant and practical way

The Portfolio - an Alternative Assessment Method in the Foreign Language Classroom Jessica Schleppege, 2010 Seminar paper from the year 2009 in the subject English Pedagogy Didactics Literature Studies grade 1 0 University of Education Heidelberg language English abstract Important decisions should not rest on simple test scores Bailey 1998 204 If important decisions should not rely on simple test scores what else can we as language teachers do to underpin our impression about a student s language ability HEATON 1979 7 8 suggests in his text Writing English Language Tests to take into account a number of other factors preferably from alternative assessment One very popular alternative assessment method is the portfolio In this paper I will discuss the portfolio as a possible assessment method and its implementation in the foreign language classroom Beginning with a brief introduction to the concept of alternative assessment and its positive features in contrast to traditional assessment methods the portfolio shall then be introduced in detail A summary of the advantages and disadvantages of using portfolios as an assessment tool are content of the next chapters followed by an examination of the technical quality of portfolios Finally I will have a closer look at marking strategies and tie up the paper with the conclusion

Language and Cognitive Development in Second Language Learning Virginia Gonzalez, 1999 Major problems exist of differently diagnosing language minority children who are in the process of learning English as a second language and even sometimes show low levels of language proficiency These children are often over represented in special education classes when in fact they are normal children or even superior in the process of learning English as a second language These children are also under represented in gifted classes due to inappropriate tests and models used as well as negative attitudes and lack of knowledge on the part of the teachers and evaluators This edited volume seeks to increase the availability of research derived knowledge and educational applications in the field of second language learning Virginia Gonzalez offers a rare and highly creative approach to second language acquisition research by applying contemporary cognitive psychology theory as a framework for investigating bilingual issues The book offers a coherent and unified philosophy and context presenting original research studies that provide a multidimensional socioeducational view to second language learning and instruction in children and adults Gonzalez and her colleagues assume the identity of the Ethnic Researcher thereby emphasizing the need to include cultural and linguistic factors when studying assessing and instructing second language learners School psychologists therapists social workers
