Alternative Routes in Britain Automobile Association (Great Britain),1981 British Routes to India Halford Lancaster Hoskins,1928 Britain's Imperial Air Routes 1918-1939 Robin Higham,2017-01-20 The Road-books & Itineraries of Great Britain, 1570 to 1850 Sir Herbert George Fordham,1924 British Railways and the Great War Edwin A. Pratt,1921 Alternate Route Clifford Winston,Chad Shirley,2010-12-01 Urban transportation problems abound across America including jammed highways during rush hours deteriorating bus service and strong pressures to build new rail systems Most solutions attempt either to increase transportation capacity by building more roads and expanding mass transit or to manage existing capacity through HOV restrictions exclusive bus lanes and employer based policies such as flexible work hours This book develops an alternative solution to urban transportation problems based on economic analysis but well aware of the political constraints on policymakers The authors estimate that efficient pricing and service policies could save more than 10 billion in annual net benefits over current practices but argue that powerful entrenched political and institutional forces will continue to thwart efficient economic solutions to improve urban transportation They believe however that some form of privatization would likely improve social welfare more than an efficient public sector system Facing fewer operating restrictions greater economic incentives and stronger competitive pressures private suppliers could substantially improve the efficiency of urban operations and offer services that are more responsive to the needs of all types of travelers The authors conclude that policymakers have bestowed huge benefits on the public by allowing the private sector to play a leading and unencumbered role in the provision of intercity transportation Public officials should take the next step and allow the private sector to play a leading role in the provision of urban transportation Report to the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Foreign Plantations of the Proceedings of the Department Relating to Railways ... Great Britain. Board of Trade. Railway Department,1856 Great Britain Findlay Muirhead,1930 Colonial Conference, 1894 Great Britain. Colonial Office,1894 Cultural Translation and Knowledge Transfer on Alternative Routes of Escape from Nazi Terror Susanne Korbel,Philipp Strobl,2021-08-05 The book investigates and compares the role of artistic and academic refugees from National Socialism acting as cultural mediators or agents of knowledge between their origin and host societies By doing so it locates itself at the intersection of the recently emerging field of the history of knowledge transnational history migration exile as well as cultural transfer studies The case studies provided in this volume are of global scope focusing on routes of escape and migration to Iceland Italy the Near East Portugal and Shanghai and South Central and North America The chapters examine the hybrid ways refugees envisaged managed organized and subsequently mediated their migrations It focuses on how they dealt with their escape in their art and science The chapters ask how the emigrants located themselves did they associate with ethnic religious and or cultural affiliations specific social classes or specific parts of society and how such identifications were portrayed in their knowledge transfer and cultural translations

Building on such possible avenues for research this volume aims to offer a global analysis of the multifarious processes not only of cultural translation and knowledge transfer affecting culture sciences networks but also everyday life in different areas of the world

Dominions Royal Commission,1912 The Unwinding of Apartheid: UK-South African Relations, 1986-1990 Patrick Salmon,Martin Jewitt,2019-01-15 This volume examines diplomatic relations between the United Kingdom and South Africa from 1986 to 1990 when deadlock gave way to the first stages in the unwinding of apartheid By the middle of 1986 the South African Government had succeeded in containing the township revolt but its hesitant moves towards reform had brought the end of apartheid no closer The intransigent figure of President P W Botha ensured a continuing stalemate until his reluctant departure from office in August 1989 The subsequent election of F W de Klerk marked the beginning of irrevocable change symbolised by the release of Nelson Mandela from prison in February 1990 This volume documents the role of the United Kingdom in keeping pressure on the South African Government building contacts with the African National Congress ANC and giving decisive encouragement to President de Klerk s reform initiatives It reveals recurrent differences of approach between the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher However it also shows that despite her frequent confrontations with the international community in general and the Commonwealth in particular Mrs Thatcher repeatedly brought pressure to President Botha and strongly supported President de Klerk during his first crucial months in office Her part in bringing about change in South Africa was fully appreciated by Nelson Mandela whose first meeting with Mrs Thatcher concludes the volume This book will be of much interest to students of British politics African studies foreign policy and International Relations in general
