Twentieth-Century South Africa Ruhan Fourie, 2024-03-19 This book investigates Afrikaner anticommunism in South Africa in the twentieth century focusing on the Dutch Reformed Church DRC Following contemporary understandings of anticommunism as a fluid ideological stance it demonstrates that the deeply held anticommunist convictions of ordinary twentieth century Afrikaners is more than merely a natural result of global politics It examines how the DRC the institution with the widest reach and deepest influence in the everyday lives of Afrikaners played a significant role in perpetuating an anticommunist imagination amongst twentieth century Afrikaners The text explores the critical role the DRC fulfilled in legitimising overt opposition to and suppression of communism in all its perceived manifestations including black dissent whilst also creating an Afrikaner imagination in which the volk remained convinced of the ever present communist threat and of its own role as a bulwark against communism The church's moral standing in Afrikaner society also made it susceptible to right wing opportunists gaining mainstream political clout which this monograph also exposes and explains It ultimately concludes that anticommunism functioned as a vehicle for nationalist unity and uniformity a paradigm for Afrikaner identity and a legitimiser of the volk's perceptions of its imagined moral high ground throughout the twentieth century It will appeal to readers interested in anticommunism Christian nationalism right wing networks racism and apartheid culture and society
