Christian Values:

Christian Values in Communist China Gerda Wielander,2013-10-08 This book argues that as new political and social values are formed in post socialist China Christian values are becoming increasingly embedded in the new post socialist Chinese outlook It shows how although Christianity is viewed in China as a foreign religion promoted by Christian missionaries and as such at odds with the official position of the state Christianity as a source of social and political values rather than a faith requiring adherence to a church is in fact having a huge impact The book shows how these values inform both official and dissident ideology and provide a key underpinning of morality and ethics in the post socialist moral landscape Adopting a variety of different angles the book investigates the role Christian thought plays in the official discourse on morality and love and what contribution Chinese Christians make to charitable projects It analyses key Christian publications and dedicates two chapters to Christian intellectuals and their impact on political liberal thinking in China The concluding chapter highlights gender roles the role of the Chinese diaspora and the overlap of the government and Christian agenda in China today The book challenges commonly held views on contemporary Chinese Christianity as a movement in opposition to the state by showing the diversity and complexity of Christian thinking and the many factors influencing it

Christianity and Social Engagement in China Francis K.G. Lim,Bee Bee Sng,2020-12-22 How does Christianity continue to experience growth in an increasingly authoritarian political system that enforces strict regulations on religion How are ordinary Christians affected by social and political changes in the country and how do they make their influence felt in wider society Taking Chinese Christians experience as a case study Lim and Sng examine the possibilities and limitations of Christian engagement in society under an authoritarian regime They look especially at efforts by religious individuals and groups who are seeking to address social issues by engaging in unobtrusive and non antagonistic activities that interact with controlling state institutions Their emphasis is on everyday lived religion analysing how Christians express their faith in their everyday activity and not only in spaces demarcated as falling within the religious domain This book is a valuable reference for scholars and students looking to understand religion in relation to politics culture and everyday life in rapidly modernising East Asian societies and particularly in China

Contested Hospitalities in a Time of Migration Synnøve Bendixsen, Trygve Wyller, 2019-10-28 This book explores the duality of openness and restriction in approaches to migrants in the Nordic countries As borders have become less permeable to non Europeans it presents research on civil society practices that oppose the existing border regimes and examine the values that they express The volume offers case studies from across the region that demonstrate opposition to increasingly restricted borders and which seek to offer hospitality to migrant One topic is whether these practices impact and transform the Nordic Protestant trajectory The book considers whether such actions are indicative of new sensibilities and values in which traditional categories and binaries are becoming less relevant It also discusses what these practices of hospitality indicate about the changing relationship between voluntary organizations and the Nordic welfare states in the time of migration As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology and religious studies with interests in migration civil society resistance and social values

Rights Before Courts Wojciech Sadurski, 2005-02-21 Challenging the conventional wisdom that constitutional courts are the best device that democratic systems have for the protection of individual rights Wojciech Sadurski examines carefully the most recent wave of activist constitutional courts those that have emerged after the fall of communism in Central and Eastern Europe In contrast to most other analysts and scholars he does not take for granted that they are a force for the good but rather subjects them to critical scrutiny against the background of a wide ranging comparative and theoretical analysis of constitutional judicial review in the modern world He shows that in the region of Central and Eastern Europe their record in protecting constitutional rights has been mixed and their impact upon the vibrancy of democratic participation and public discourse about controversial issues often negative Sadurski urges us to reconsider the frequently unthinking enthusiasm for the imposition of judicial limits upon constitutional democracy In the end his reflections go to the very heart of the fundamental dilemma of constitutionalism and political theory how best to find the balance between constitutionalism and democracy The lively if imperfect democracies in Central and Eastern Europe provide a fascinating terrain for raising this question and testing traditional answers This innovative wide ranging and thought provoking book will become essential reading for scholars and students alike in the fields of comparative constitutionalism and political theory particularly for those with an interest in legal and political developments in the postcommunist world
