Disability Studies Reader:

The Disability Studies Reader Lennard J. Davis, 2006 The second edition of The Disability Studies Reader builds and improves upon the classic first edition which has sold well over 6000 copies since 1999 As a field disability studies burst onto the scene across the social sciences and humanities in the 1990s and the first edition of the reader gathered the best work that had been written on the subject including essays by famous authors such as Susan Sontag and Erving Goffman The new edition is more global in its coverage and adds material on genetic testing the human genome queer studies and issues in developing countries The size of the audience has grown since the first edition's publication and the second edition's new material will make it even more useful for courses on the subject Courses on the subject have mushroomed in the past ten years and can now be found across the social sciences humanities and behavioral sciences The Disability Studies Reader Lennard J. Davis, 2013-05-02 The Fourth Edition of the Disability Studies Reader breaks new ground by emphasizing the global transgender homonational and posthuman conceptions of disability Including physical disabilities but exploring issues around pain mental disability and invisible disabilities this edition explores more varieties of bodily and mental experience New histories of the legal social and cultural give a broader picture of disability than ever before Now available for the first time in eBook format 978 0 203 07788 7 The Disability Studies Reader Lennard J. Davis, 1997 The Disability Studies Reader collects for the first time representative texts from the newly emerging field of disability studies This volume represents a major advance in presenting the most important writings about disability with an emphasis on those writers working from a materialist and postmodernist perspective Drawing together experts in cultural studies literary criticism sociology biology the visual arts pedagogy and post colonial studies the collection provides a comprehensive approach to the issue of disability Contributors include Erving Goffman Susan Sontag Michelle Fine and Susan Wendell Another Disability Studies Reader? Geert Van Hove, 2005 The UN Convention on the Rights of Persons With Disabilities Oddný Mjöll Arnardóttir, Gerard Quinn, 2009 The International Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities is the first human rights treaty adopted by the United Nations in the 21st century It seeks to secure the equal and effective enjoyment of human rights for the estimated 650 million persons with disabilities in the world It does so by tailoring general human rights norms to their circumstances It reflects and advances the shift away from welfare to rights in the context of disability The Convention itself represents a mix between non discrimination and other substantive human rights and gives practical effect to the idea that all human rights are indivisible and interdependent This collection of essays examines these developments from the global European and Scandinavian perspectives and the challenge of transposing its provisions into national law It marks the coming of age of disability as a core human rights concern Rethinking Normalcy Rod Michalko, Tanya Titchkosky, 2009 The chapters in this book exemplify ways of questioning our collective relations to normalcy as such relations affect the lives of both disabled and currently non disabled people Pub desc Real Recognition Marie-Elisabeth

Lei Pihl, 2022-10-03 Real Recognition investigates the complexities of literary and social recognition with the aim of putting a fresh cross disciplinary spin on reader identification and social acknowledgment Engaging with contemporary Danish and Anglophone works on racialization disability and gender Marie Elisabeth Lei Pihl argues in favor of a close relation between aesthetic appeals to recognition and the political dimensions of literary texts Moreover she proposes a framework bent on experience and relations as opposed to identity and status for articulating new fruitful understandings of how literary texts call for aesthetic and social recognition Based on this she argues that literary texts can make readers get what social validation is about and thereby help us redefine a key concept in the social sciences Marie Elisabeth Lei Pihl earned her PhD in literature and sociology from the University of Southern Denmark in 2020 Currently she works as a postdoctoral researcher within narrative medicine and literature based social interventions at the University of Southern Denmark in collaboration with the National Institute of Public Health in Copenhagen Chapter 3 of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Literature and Disability Alice Hall, 2015-08-11 Literature and Disability introduces readers to the field of disability studies and the ways in which a focus on issues of impairment and the representation of disability can provide new approaches to reading and writing about literary texts Disability plays a central role in much of the most celebrated literature yet it is only in recent years that literary criticism has begun to consider the aesthetic ethical and literary challenges that this poses The author explores key debates and issues in disability studies today different forms of impairment with the aim of showing the diversity and ambiguity of the term disability the intersection between literary critical approaches to disability and feminist post colonial and autobiographical writing genre and representations of disability in relation to literary forms including novels short stories poems plays and life writing This volume provides students and academics with an accessible overview of literary critical approaches to disability representation

Sight Correction Chris Mounsey, 2019-11-28 The debut publication in a new series devoted to the body as an object of historical study Sight Correction provides an expansive analysis of blindness in eighteenth century Britain developing a new methodology for conceptualizing sight impairment Beginning with a reconsideration of the place of sight correction as both idea and reality in eighteenth century philosophical debates Chris Mounsey traces the development of eye surgery by pioneers such as William Read Mary Cater and John Taylor who developed a new idea of medical specialism that has shaped contemporary practices He then turns to accounts by the visually impaired themselves exploring how Thomas Gills John Maxwell and Priscilla Pointon deployed literature strategically as a necessary response to the inadequacies of Poor Laws to support blind people Situating blindness philosophically medically and economically in the eighteenth century Sight Correction shows how the lives of both the blind and those who sought to treat them redefined blindness in ways that continue to inform our understanding today
