

A New Design for Liberal Learning

The Committee on Academic Programs

Purpose and Principles

In its Mission Statement, The College of New Jersey proudly embraces “its public service mandate to educate leaders of New Jersey and the nation,” and proclaims its aspiration to be “a national exemplar in the education of those who seek to sustain and advance the communities in which they live.” Beginning with our own community and state, we intend to offer the best in liberal learning for undergraduates. To that end, we propose a Design for Liberal Learning that provides a framework for faculty and students to exercise choice and imagination in ensuring that every graduate is broadly and humanely educated.

One of the fundamental goals of liberal education is to prepare free men and women to be active, thoughtful, and caring citizens and to live a life that is examined and deliberate. Since people are born and raised in a particular time, place, and culture, they tend to take for granted that the characteristics of their situation define what is normal. A liberal education compels people to question what is taken for granted. It enables them to see their own origins from a distance and to gain a measure of freedom from the limitations and prejudices that may be part of their cultural heritage. Students who can view their own backgrounds with a critical eye are better prepared to appreciate the values, outlooks, and problems of people who differ from themselves in gender, race, ethnicity, and economic circumstances. Consequently, they are better prepared to contribute to the communities in which they will live and work. This applies to civic responsibility in the national community as well. As citizens of the richest and most powerful nation in an increasingly interconnected world, Americans have a special obligation to keep abreast of national and global developments in politics, economics, science, and culture and to utilize their rights and freedoms to promote the common good.

A second fundamental goal of liberal learning is to ensure that educated men and women have the breadth of knowledge and proficiencies necessary to deal successfully with the challenges and opportunities of life, work, and citizenship in an increasingly complex and rapidly changing world. The College of New Jersey’s Mission Statement is unequivocal in its commitment to breadth as well as depth in the education of its graduates. It states: “The College prepares students to excel in their chosen fields and to create, preserve, and transmit knowledge, the arts, and wisdom.” In the contemporary world, the principal vehicles for the acquisition and transmission of knowledge are the natural, social, and mathematical sciences. The arts today include not only traditional literary, visual, and performing arts but also mixed forms such as cinematic and electronic arts. The search for wisdom has traditionally been the task of philosophy and religion, but other fields such as anthropology, cognitive science, culture studies, and the sociology of knowledge now lay claim to parts of that effort as well. While no undergraduate education can familiarize students with the countless forms that scientific inquiry, artistic creativity, and the search for wisdom have taken, it is essential that students grapple with exemplary subjects and issues in each of these broad sectors. Equally essential is the emphasis

Design in Liberal Learning Maxwell Henry Goldberg,1971      Redesigning Liberal Education William Moner,Phillip Motley,Rebecca Pope-Ruark,2020-07-07 Redesigning liberal education requires both pragmatic approaches to discover what works and radical visions of what is possible The future of liberal education in the United States in its current form is fraught but full of possibility Today s institutions are struggling to maintain viability sustain revenue and assert value in the face of rising costs But we should not abandon the model of pragmatic liberal learning that has made America s colleges and universities the envy of the world Instead Redesigning Liberal Education argues we owe it to students to reform liberal education in ways that put broad and measurable student learning as the highest priority Written by experts in higher education the book is organized into two sections The first section focuses on innovations at 13 institutions Brown University College of the Holy Cross Connecticut College Elon University Florida International University George Mason University Georgetown University Lasell College Northeastern University Rollins College Smith College Susquehanna University and the University of Wisconsin Green Bay Chapters about these institutions consider the vast spectrum of opportunities and challenges currently faced by students faculty staff and administrators while also offering radical visions of the future of liberal education in the United States Accompanying vision chapters written by some of the foremost leaders in higher education touch on a wide array of subjects and themes from artificial intelligence and machines to the role that human dispositions mindsets resilience and time play in how we guide students to ideas for bringing playful concepts of creativity and openness into our work Ultimately Redesigning Liberal Education reveals how humanizing forces including critical thinking collaboration cross cultural competencies resilience and empathy can help drive our world This uplifting collection is a celebration of the innovative work being done to achieve the promise of a valuable engaging and practical undergraduate liberal education Isis Artze Vega Denise S Bartell Randy Bass John Bodinger de Uriarte Laurie Ann Britt Smith Jacquelyn Dively Brown Phillip M Carter Nancy L Chick Michael J Daley Maggie Debelius Janelle Papay Decato Peter Felten Ashley Finley Dennis A Frey Jr Chris W Gallagher Evan A Gatti Lisa Gring Pemble Krist na Moss Gudr n Gunnarsd ttir Anthony Hatcher Toni Strollo Holbrook Derek Lackaff Leo Lambert Kristin Lange Sherry Lee Linkon Anne M Magro Maud S Mandel Jessica Metzler Borjana Mikic William Moner Phillip Motley Matthew Pavesich Uta G Poiger Rebecca Pope Ruark Michael Reder Michael S Roth Emily Russell Heather Russell Ann Schenk Michael Shanks Susan Rundell Singer Andrea A Sinn Christina Smith Allison K Staudinger William M Sullivan Connie Svabo Meredith Twombly Betsy Verhoeven David J Voelker Scott Windham Mary C Wright Catherine Zeek      Arts Digest ,1928      Integrating Design Thinking Into Liberal Arts Colleges Courtney Lander Mongell,2004      Art Digest ,1926 Includes section The great calender of American exhibitions Arts & Decoration ,1919      Harper's Bazaar ,1924      The Standard ,1917      A Handbook of Private Schools for American Boys and Girls ,1928      Curriculum by Design Mary Thomas Crane,David Quigley,Andy Boynton,2023-05-16

This book tells the story of how a team of colleagues at Boston College took an unusual approach working with a design consultancy to renewing their core and in the process energized administrators faculty and students to view liberal arts education as an ongoing process of innovation It aims to provide insight into what they did and why they did it and to provide a candid account of what has worked and what has not worked Although all institutions are different they believe their experiences can provide guidance to others who want to change their general education curriculum or who are being asked to teach core or general education courses in new ways The book also includes short essays by a number of faculty colleagues who have been teaching in BC s new innovative core courses providing practical advice about the challenges of trying interdisciplinary teaching team teaching project or problem based learning intentional reflection and other new structures and pedagogies for the first time It will also address some of the nuts and bolts issues they have encountered when trying to create structures to make curriculum change sustainable over time and to foster ongoing innovation
