Impact Evaluation of Small and Medium Enterprise Programs in Latin America and the Caribbean Gladys Lopez Acevedo, Hong Tan, 2011 Small and medium enterprise SME support programs are a common feature of industrial policy in developing countries but one whose effectiveness is not well known Governments are motivated to support SMEs both because they make up the majority of industrial enterprises and contribute substantially to GDP employment and earnings and because SMEs are thought to be weaker than their larger counterparts Few governments however have evaluated their SME programs rigorously so there is little empirical basis for rational allocation of resources to the well performing programs The paucity of empirical evidence from rigorous impact evaluations also presents problems for multi lateral and bilateral donors in deciding whether or not to provide lending or aid for such policy interventions to promote SME development This study rigorously evaluate SME programs in four Latin American countries to gain insights into which programs perform better than others and just as important why These countries Mexico Chile Colombia and Peru cover a wide range of enterprise support programs including training innovation and technology upgrading quality control market development export promotion and network formation Broadly comparable panel data on enterprises is used to investigate the net impacts of these SME interventions

Finally available in English Le Règne de la barbarie by Abdellatif La bi is one of the most daring poetic visions of the second half of the twentieth century First published in 1976 when Laabi was serving an eight year prison sentence 1972 1980 for crimes of opinion against the Moroccan State The Rule of Barbarism is a devastating flight through consciousness acquainting the reader with the trials of a society caught between a colonial past and the tragic realities of a brutal dictatorship Analysing the presence of barbarism inherent in all of us and yet deepening our capacity for compassion despite the allure of revenge this stunning debut from a writer on the threshold of a groundbreaking career can be read as an epic of love empathy anger and despair and is as resonant today as when composed nearly fifty years ago Home-school Relations Mary Lou Fuller,Glenn William Olsen,1998 In order for educators to have positive working relationships with the students they teach they must understand the families from which their students come This edited volume examines the nature of the contemporary family and its relationship to the school It provides practical advice for developing strong home school relationships Initially this text paints the various pictures of the modern family In addition to covering the traditional topics of ethnic families change in families and parent teacher communication Fuller and Olsen and their contributors delve further into the issues facing families today Poverty advocacy fathering and domestic violence and their effect on families are discussed opening new paths of understanding for educators Diversity cultural racial religious and sexual orientation is discussed not only in a separate chapter but throughout the text to promote understanding of all students and their families Unlike other texts in this field Home School Relations confronts the alarming statistics on poverty and how it affects children and ultimately their performance in schools Home School Relations is the best text available to prepare educators for all the forms of diversity they will encounter in the field Beyond its in depth look at ever evolving families this text provides solid practical examples of building good home school partnerships and fostering familial involvement in schools Specific examples of activities and strategies are presented offering the educator and pre service student a valuable professional resource
