1996 Chinas Terror A Novel:

1996: China's Terror Will Campbell, 1994-01-01 Violence, Discourse, and Politics in China's Uyghur Region Pablo A. Rodríguez-Merino, 2022-12-30 This book investigates how Uyghur related violent conflict and Uyghur ethnic minority identity religion and the Xinjiang region more broadly became constituted as a terrorism problem for the Chinese state Building on securitization theory Critical Terrorism Studies CTS and the scholarly definitional debate on terrorism it develops the concept of terroristization as a critical analytical framework for the study of historical processes of threat construction Investigating the violent events reported in Xinjiang since the early 1980s the evolving discursive patterns used by the Chinese state to make sense of violent incidents and the crackdown policies that the official terrorism discourse has legitimized the book demonstrates how the securitization and later terroristization of Xinjiang and the Uyghurs is the result of a discursive and political choice of the Chinese state The author reveals the contingent and unstable nature of such construction and how it problematizes the inevitability of the rationale behind China s war on terror that has prescribed a brutal crackdown as the most viable approach to governing the tensions that have historically characterized China s rule over the Turkic Muslim ethnic minorities in Xinjiang This book will be of interest to scholars and students of the politics of contemporary China security and ethnic minority issues International Relations and Security as well as those adopting discursive approaches to the study of security notably those within the critical security and terrorism studies fields Novel and Short Story Writer's Market 96 Robin Gee, 1996 Fiction writers turn to this resource each year for information on fiction markets contests conferences writers colonies and other opportunities Helpful articles and interviews with professional writers add to the guide s appeal Cultural Security in Contemporary China and Mongolia Jarmila Ptáčková, Ondrej Klimes, 2025-10-01 Cultural Security in Contemporary China and Mongolia applies the term cultural security not exclusively to state or institution implemented processes but also considers the indigenous bottom up and inside out mechanisms of establishing and maintaining communal cultural security of an ethnic group Markers of cultural identity differ according to an inside and outside perspective and can be re defined according to inner or outer circumstances Importance of these markers increases when a community feels endangered in their cultural existence or diminishes when perceived cultural identity is not questioned The dynamics shaping cultural security are illustrated in examples of ethnic communities in the People s Republic of China and in Mongolia American Book Publishing Record ,1985 The Writers Directory 2008 Michelle Kazensky, 2007-06 Features bibliographical biographical and contact information for living authors worldwide who have at least one English publication Entries include name pseudonyms addresses citizenship birth date specialization career information and a bibliography The Cumulative Book Index ,1998 A world list of books in the English language Remolding and Resistance Among Writers of the Chinese Prison Camp Philip Williams, Yenna Wu, 2006-10-03 Even in the twenty first century the contemporary Chinese prison camp remains a more obscure and poorly understood realm than the Forbidden City of old. Apolitical service organizations such as the International Red Cross have routinely been denied access to PRC prison camps and prison camp inmates who have smuggled out frank unofficial accounts of their incarceration have only been published overseas and often had their sentences extended as a result. Presenting extensive analysis of literary and biographical accounts, this illuminating book provides a window to the affective side and emotional tenor of day to day life in modern day labour camps. With contributions from well known and respected scholars, the book covers the contentious issues of prison economics, prisoner remodeling and post traumatic stress disorder. Drawing parallels with Soviet, Nazi and Japanese prison camp practice, this outstanding new book will be invaluable to those interested in how the human mind responds to extremity as well as to scholars of Chinese history, politics, literature and sociology.

The Encyclopedia of Fantasy John Clute, John Grant, 1999-03-15. By comparison of late nineteenth century ghost stories between China and Britain, this monograph traces the entangled dynamics between ghost story writing, history making and the moulding of a gendered self. Associated with times of anxiety, groups under marginalisation and tensions with orthodox narratives, ghost stories from two distinguished literary traditions are explored through the writings and lives of four innovative writers of this period: namely Xuan Ding and Wang Tao in China and Vernon Lee and E Nesbit in Britain. Through this cross cultural investigation, the book illuminates how a gendered self is constructed in each culture and what cultural baggage and assets are brought into this construction. It also ventures to sketch a common poetics underlying a literature of the anomaly that can be both destabilising and constructive, subversive and coercive. This book will be welcomed by the Gothic studies community as well as scholars working in the fields of women's writing, nineteenth century British literature and Chinese literature. The Making of the Asia Pacific See Seng Tan, 2025-10-01.
