Conventional Deterrence Into The 1990s:

Conventional Deterrence into the 1990s Thomas Boyd-Carpenter, 1989-06-18 A selection of ten lectures on the future of conventional deterrence is drawn together by a new essay on the subject The study suggests how NATO policy strategy and tactics must evolve to cope with new circumstances and limited budgets and the role Britain should play in this

Conventional Deterrence Into the 1990's Thomas Boyd-Carpenter, 1989 Weapons Proliferation in the 1990s Brad Roberts, 1995 The proliferation of weapons of mass destruction has emerged as a major topic of international security in the post Cold War world This compendium of articles published in The Washington Quarterly between 1991 and 1995 describes the changing nature of the problem discusses new trends in nonproliferation and counterproliferation policy identifies new arms control challenges at the regional and global levels and concludes by addressing the global politics of proliferation

The Politics and Strategy of Nuclear Weapons in the Middle East Shlomo Aronson, Oded Brosh, 1992-07-01 Based on research from an array of American Arab British French German and Israeli sources this book provides a nuclear history of the world's most explosive region Most significantly it gives an exposition of Israel's acquisition and political use or nonuse of nuclear weapons as a central factor of its foreign policy in the 1960-1991 period In stressing the factor of nuclear weapons the author highlights an often neglected aspect of Israeli security policy

Professional Journal of the United States Army, 1984 The Cold War U.S. Army Ingo Trauschweizer, 2008 Focuses on the Seventh Army in West Germany the largest and best prepared field army ever deployed by the U S in peacetime to show how the U S army redefined its identity structure and mission in order to avoid obsolescence during the Cold War era of nuclear weapons and air power Military Review, 1984

The Cumulative Book Index, 1990 A world list of books in the English language Arms Control and Disarmament Quarterly Review, 1990 Defense Economics for the 1990's David M. Abshire, 1989 Security Studies for the 1990s Richard H. Shultz, Roy Godson, Ted Greenwood, 1993 The United States is grappling with a new security framework to replace the structure of the Cold War era American policymakers face a host of challenges including regional conflicts ethnic tensions and weapons proliferation that commanded little attention in the past And tomorrow is likely to bring new concerns barely on today's horizon Despite these changes the study of national security remains largely a creature of the Cold War The security studies discipline needs to be overhauled But how should it be revised so that tomorrow's citizens and experts are equipped to understand and help manage new challenges One option is to downgrade security studies and divert educational resources elsewhere Another is to redefine the subject to include the study of an all encompassing list of international problems The third choice is to retain basic definitions concepts and subjects while also making significant adjustments Security Studies for the 1990s addresses all three options This book is the first to reexamine security studies in the post Cold War era Scholars and directors from leading security studies programs representing a cross section of viewpoints on foreign affairs discuss what new material needs to be taught and which courses and concepts should be recast Each chapter provides an indepth review of a major security studies course proposing needed changes and a model syllabus Subjects include intelligence policy global environmental problems the causes and termination of wars and collective security A chapter on the teaching of ethics a subject often neglected in the past is also featured BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Future of NATO S. Nelson Drew,1991-04-30 How should NATO s military strategy and force posture in Western Europe be handled given today s changing relations between East and West Five relatively senior U S military officers spent a year exploring this issue as National Security Fellows at the Kennedy School of Harvard University The Future of NATO serves as a reference based upon their analyses of the changes in the Soviet security posture and the political response of Western Europe to the collapse of the Warsaw pact It is an analytical tool that deals with the requirements that any new NATO strategy will have to meet to be relevant It is a catalyst for discussion based on the proposal to replace forward defense strategy with resilient defense Resilient defense articulates one way in which the United States and NATO can accommodate the pressures for reduced defense spending in the face of a reduced military threat Resilient defense is evolutionary rather than revolutionary in nature It takes advantage of increased warning time to permit a strategy that draws heavily on existing mobilization capabilities The strategy assumes cuts in active forces yet it is designed to maintain a conventional defense capability across even deeper cuts by making more efficient use of lower levels of forces This volume deals with more than just the political elements of the NATO alliance or details of military strategies It also studies the interrelationship among political economic and military requirements underpinning Alliance security Those concerned with military strategy and international security affairs will find this work timely and relevant Disarmament ,1990 An Era of Change British Library,David and Mary Eccles Centre for American Studies,1992 Naval Power in the Twenty-first Century Peter J. Dombrowski,2005 The Atlantic Community Quarterly ,1987 Strategic Studies Quarterly ,2009 International Affairs Fellowship Program 1967-1990 Directory Council on Foreign Relations,1990 Strategic Analysis ,1986-04 French Strategic Options in the 1990s Diego A. Ruiz Palmer,1991
