Historical Dictionary of Boxing John Grasso,2013-11-14 Boxing is one of the oldest sports in the world reaching back to the Ancient Greeks although it has become popular only in the past century or so But in some ways it is a rather complicated sport since to avoid unnecessary harm it has been endowed with rules to keep it clean referees to see the rules are obeyed and organizations to regulate the sport Boxing was once largely amateur although the professional bouts attracted the most attention but now it is also an Olympic sport And over the years there has been one champion after another who symbolized what boxing was all about such Joe Louis Mohammad Ali and Cassius Clay Naturally these champions are the focus of the Historical Dictionary of Boxing as well and they have the biggest entries in the dictionary section but they had to fight against someone and there are dozens and dozens of other boxers with smaller entries More of these boxers come from the United States than elsewhere but there are others from Europe Asia and Latin America and there are also entries on the major boxing countries as well Plus entries on the rules on the organizations and on the technical terminology and jargon you have to know just to follow the bouts The introduction provides a broad view of boxing s history while the chronology traces events from 688 B C to 2012 A D Not all that much has been written on boxing that is not ephemeral but much of that literature can be found in the bibliography This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the sport of boxing

Bowker's Complete Video Directory, 1999, 1999 Sam Langford Clay Moyle, 2012-12

Standing no more than 5'7" tall Sam Langford was one of the 20th century's greatest fighters. In 1951 the great featherweight champion Abe Attell was asked if Sugar Ray Robinson was the best of all time either as a welterweight or middleweight. He named Stanley Ketchel as the greatest welterweight he'd ever seen and said that as for the middleweights he'd take Sam Langford the greatest of them all at that poundage. Remarkably the man Attell felt was the greatest middleweight fighter in history fought and defeated many of the leading heavyweight contenders of his day. Over time he matured physically and grew into a light heavyweight then began fighting heavyweights on a regular basis but he was almost always the much smaller of the two combatants. Nat Fleischer founding editor of The Ring magazine called Sam one of the hardest punchers of all time and ranked the little man seventh among his personal all time favorites. Sam was endowed with everything. He possessed strength, agility, cleverness, hitting power, a good thinking cap and an abundance of courage. He feared no one. But he had the fatal gift of being too good and that's why he often had to give away weight in early days and make agreements with opponents. Many of those who agreed to fight him especially of his own race wanted an assurance that he would be merciful or insisted on a bout of not more than six rounds. Other leading sportswriters of that era had even higher opinions of Sam. Hype Igoe well known boxing writer for the New York Journal proclaimed Sam the greatest fighter pound for pound who ever lived. Joe Williams respected sports columnist of the New York World Telegram wrote that Langford was probably the best the ring ever saw and the great Grantland Rice described Sam as about the best fighting man I've ever watched. At the time of Sam's induction into the Boxing Hall of Fame October 1955 he was the only non champion accorded the honor. Many ring experts considered Sam the greatest pound for pound fighter in the history of boxing. Under different circumstances he might have been a champion at five different weights: lightweight, welterweight, middleweight, light heavyweight and heavyweight. Blind and penniless at the end of his life Sam lived quietly in a private nursing home. But when one visitor expressed sympathy for his circumstances Sam replied "Don't nobody need to feel sorry for old Sam. I had plenty of good times. I been all over the world. I fought maybe 600 fights and every one was a pleasure. With 98 photographs and illustrations primarily from private collections."
