Costa, 2026-02-17 Over the centuries from the transatlantic slave trade to voluntary mass migrations through the digital era African cultural practices have taken root and transformed in the Americas Even though Afro Brazilians make up a large share of the global Black diaspora and Brazilian culture in turn has been deeply shaped by African influences their particular contributions remain overlooked Imagining the Past Remembering the Future investigates the interlinked art history religion philosophy and cosmology of oral traditions across the Afro Brazilian diaspora arguing that these varied cultural expressions together constitute distinctive forms of knowledge Through case studies of sacred and secular performances Isis Barra Costa shows how Afro Brazilian concepts and practices preserve and renew an ever changing diasporic philosophy Ranging across parades of Black royal courts Carnaval performing groups oracular literature spirit dictated novels and many other forms she illuminates the survival and transformation of African cosmologies epistemologies and poetics in the Americas Foregrounding oral narratives Barra Costa sheds light on the nonhegemonic protagonists and canons of the Black Atlantic the spaces and beings kingdoms and heroes philosophers and historians that orient Afro Brazilian memory and imagination By tracing forms of knowledge across the global African diaspora this deeply interdisciplinary book reveals the transformative potential of Afro Brazilian philosophical paradigms

Making Histories Paul Ashton, Tanya Evans, Paula Hamilton, 2020-09-21

If historical culture is the specific and particular ways that a society engages with its past this book aims to situate the professional practice of public history now emerging across the world within that framework It links the increasingly varied practices of memory and history making such as genealogy podcasting re enactment family histories memoir writing film making and facebook histories with the work that professional historians do both in and out of the academy Making Histories asks questions about the role of the expert and notions of authority within a landscape that is increasingly concerned with connection to the past and authenticity The book is divided into four parts 1 Resistance Rights Authority 2 Memory Memorialization Commemoration 3 Performance Transmission Reception 4 Family Private Self The four sections outline major themes emerging in public history across the world in the 21st century which are all underpinned by the impact of new media on historical practice and our central argument for the volume which advocates a more capacious definition of what
