Auto Slavery David Gartman, 1986 Auto Slavery David Gartman, 1980 The Rise and Fall of the New Deal Order, 1930-1980 Steve Fraser, Gary Gerstle, 1989 The 10 essays in this book probe the underlying economic social and cultural dynamics of the Roosevelt revolution analyze the durability of the New Deal coalition through the mid 1960s and uncover the racial class and cultural fissures that led to its disintegration The contributors answer such questions as How did the Democratic Party accommodate both poor workers and wealthy capitalists Why did the labor question lose its importance in American politics as soon as the movement achieved political power Why did economic abundance generate political and cultural conservatism in the 1950s but radicalism in the 1960s ISBN 0 691 04761 8 25 00 Making and Selling Cars James M. Rubenstein, 2003-04-01 From the creation of fast food to the design of cities to the character of our landscape the automobile has shaped nearly every aspect of modern American life In fact the U S motor vehicle industry is the largest manufacturing industry in the world James Rubenstein documents the story of the automotive industry which despite its power is an industry constantly struggling to redefine itself and assure its success Making and Selling Cars Innovation and Change in the U S Automotive Industry shows how this industry made adjustments and fostered innovations in both production and marketing in order to remain a viable force throughout the twentieth century Rubenstein builds his study of the American auto industry with care taking the reader through this quintessentially modern history of production and consumption Avoiding jargon while never oversimplifying Rubenstein gives a detailed and straightforward account of both the production and merchandising of cars We learn how the industry began and about its methods for building cars and the modern American marketplace Along the way there were many missteps and challenges the Edsel the fuel crisis and the ascendancy of Japanese cars in the 1980s The industry met these types of problems with new techniques and approaches To demonstrate this Rubenstein gives the reader examples of how the auto industry used to work which he alternates with chapters showing how the industry has reinvented itself Making and Selling Cars explains why the U S automotive industry has been and remains a vigorous shaper of the American economy Auto Slavery William David Gartman, 1990 Auto Slavery William David Gartman, 1982 American Technology and the British Vehicle Industry Wayne Lewchuk, 1987-09-03 From Autos to Architecture David Gartman, 2012-04-17 One of the most interesting questions in architectural history is why modern architecture emerged from the war ravaged regions of central Europe and not the United States whose techniques of mass production and mechanical products so inspired the first generation of modern architects like Le Corbusier Mies van der Rohe and Walter Gropius In From Autos to Architecture sociologist David Gartman offers a critical social history that shows how Fordist mass production and industrial architecture in America influenced European designers to an extent previously not understood Drawing on Marxist economics the Frankfurt School and French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu From Autos to Architecture deftly illustrates the different class structures and struggles of America and Europe Examining architecture in the context of social conflicts From Autos to Architecture offers a critical alternative to standard architectural histories focused on aesthetics alone The Labor Wars in Cordoba, 1955-1976 James Brennan,2009-07-01 Cordoba is Argentina s second largest city a university town that became the center of its automobile industry In the decade following the overthrow of Juan Peron s government in 1955 the city experienced rapid industrial growth The arrival of IKA Renault and Fiat fostered a particular kind of industrial development and created a new industrial worker of predominantly rural origins Former farm boys and small town dwellers were thrust suddenly into the world of the modern factory and the multinational corporation The domination of the local economy by a single industry and the prominent role played by the automobile workers unions brought about the greatest working class protest in postwar Latin American history the 1969 Cordobazo Following the Cordobazo the local labor movement was one characterized by intense militancy and determined opposition to both authoritarian military governments and the Peronist trade union bureaucracy These labor wars have been mythologized as a Latin American equivalent to the French student strikes of May June 1968 and the Italian hot summer of the same period Analyzing these events in the context of recent debates on Latin American working class politics Brennan demonstrates that the pronounced militancy and even political radicalism of the Cordoban working class were due not only to Argentina s changing political culture but also to the dynamic relationship between the factory and society during those years Brennan draws on corporate archives in Argentina France and Italy as well as previously unknown union archives Readers interested in Latin American studies labor history industrial relations political science industrial sociology and international business will all find value in this important analysis of labor politics America and the Automobile Peter J.
