Broadcasting Law A Comparative Study:

Broadcasting Law E. M. Barendt, 1993 This book explores the regulation of broadcasting in five countries Britain France Germany Italy and the United States Generally it takes as its starting point the law in the U K and then looks at the comparable rules elsewhere The first book of its kind on this topic Broadcasting Law is an important book for both broadcasters and media lawyers Broadcasting Pluralism and Diversity Lesley Hitchens, 2006-10-31 A study of the policy and regulatory measures relating to the promotion of media diversity in the United Kingdom the United States and Australia

World Broadcasting Systems Sydney W. Head, 1985 Broadcasting Law, 1998 Regulating Audiovisual Services Thomas Gibbons, 2023-07-14 In recent years the changing nature of audiovisual services has had a significant impact on regulatory policy and practice The adoption of digital technology means that broadcasting cable satellite the Internet and mobile telephony are converging enabling each of them to deliver the same kinds of content and allowing users to exercise much greater choice over the kind of material that they receive and when they receive it The essays examine the implications for regulatory design asking whether there is still a role for traditional style state controls or whether other techniques such as competition in the market and self regulation are more appropriate They also explore how in the digital era structural issues of media ownership and control become problems of access and interconnection between services and how content regulation focuses more on problems raised by the interactions between providers and users the relationship between freedom of information and technologies to control it and the international reach of the new media New Media and Sport Katrien Lefever, 2012-10-04 During the past decade the media landscape and the coverage of sports events have changed fundamentally Sports fans can consume the sports content of their choice on the platform they prefer and at the time they want Furthermore thanks to electronic devices and Internet content can now be created and distributed by every sports fan As a result it is argued that media regulation which traditionally contains rules safeguarding access to information and diversity would become redundant Moreover it is sometimes proposed to leave the regulation of the broadcasting market solely to competition law This book illustrates that media law is still needed even in an era of abundance to guarantee public s access to live and full sports coverage Dealing with the impact of new media on both media and competition law this book will greatly appeal to academics and stakeholders from various disciplines such as legal and public policy political science media and communications studies journalism and European studies Additionally it contains valuable information and points of view for policy makers lawyers and international and intergovernmental organisations active in media development The book contains an up to date analysis and overview of the different competition authorities decisions and media provisions dealing with the sale acquisition and exploitation of sports broadcasting rights Katrien Lefever is Senior Legal Researcher at IBBT The Interdisciplinary Centre for Law and ICT ICRI KU Leuven Belgium The book appears in the ASSER International Sports Law Series under the editorship of Prof Dr Robert Siekmann Dr Janwillem Soek and Marco van der Harst LL M

Legislation for Press, Film and Radio Fernand Terrou, Lucien Solal,1951 Critical Analysis of the Media Law in Zimbabwe Nkosi Ndlela,2003 Sports Broadcasting Laws in Various Jurisdictions Deep Ray,2016 Major sporting events like the Olympics or the World Cup of a popular sport are among the programs that attract the most television viewers In the sports industry a major portion of the revenue is earned through broadcasting In fact television rights is the largest component of revenue for major sports Broadcasters want to offer exclusive coverage of the sports event so that they can attract maximum audiences Sponsors and advertisers are willing to pay more to the broadcasters if they believe that large audiences will watch an event This believe in turn propels broadcasters to pay more for the right to be exclusive broadcaster of a given event There are certain regulations related to broadcasting of sports events in countries like USA UK Australia India which have attempted to balance the needs and concern of public policy in one hand and the demands of the market place for sports broadcasting on the other The regulations in force in those countries have been discussed in this paper

Public Broadcasting and European Law Irini Katsirea,2008-01-01 Although EU Member States share a tradition of regulating public broadcasting for the public interest such regulation has been in decline in recent years It has been challenged by the emergence of commercial television sworn to the market logic as well as by satellite services and the Internet EU law and policy has under pressure from powerful global forces abetted that decline The question thus arises Do cultural values still matter in European national broadcasting This important book examines the challenges posed to public service obligations by European Union media law and policy An in depth analysis of the extent to which six countries France Germany Greece Italy the Netherlands and the United Kingdom regulate broadcasting for the public interest reveals a range of vulnerability to national political pressures or alternatively to the ideology of market sovereignty The author examines the country of origin principle and the European quota rule of the Television without Frontiers Directive revealing the influence of European law on the definition and enforcement of programme requirements and shows how the case law of the European Court of Justice encourages deregulation at the national level without offering adequate safeguards at the supranational level in exchange She asks the question whether the alleged European audiovisual model actually persists that is whether broadcasting is still committed to protecting such values as cultural diversity the safety of minors the susceptibility of consumers to advertising media pluralism and the fight against racial and religious hatred The book concludes with an evaluation of the impact of the EU state aid regime on the licence fee based financing of public broadcasting Despite the increasing importance of the subject its study in a comparative context has been heretofore underdeveloped This book fully provides that context and more and will be of great value and interest to all parties concerned with the key role of
