Graves,2016-05-12 A theoretical examination of the concepts of the citizen citizenship and leadership A Crisis of Leadership and the Role of Citizens in Black America Leaders of the New School proposes to develop a prototype or model of effective Black leadership Furthermore it examines citizenship habits of the Black community based on their economic standing educational attainment participation in the criminal justice system and health and family structure It tracks data in these four categories from 1970 to today measuring effective leadership by the improvement or decline in the majority of African Americans standing in these four categories This book concludes that African Americans have negative perceptions of themselves as U S citizens which thus produce bad citizenship habits Additionally ineffective Black leaders since the Civil Rights era have been unwilling to demonstrate the purpose and significance of service particularly to the poor and disadvantaged members of the Black community Contemporary Black leaders post Civil Rights Era have focused primarily on self promotion careerism and middle class interests A new type of leader is needed one that stresses unity and reinforces commitment to the group as a whole by establishing new institutions that introduce community building

Subordination or Empowerment? Richard A. Keiser,1997-09-18 Why have Blacks won political empowerment in some cities and in others remained subordinated or had their achievements rolled back Why do some cities have many Black leaders with multi racial appeal while other cities have none Subordination or Empowerment answers these questions through detailed historical examinations of the Black struggle for political power in Chicago Gary Philadelphia and Atlanta Keiser argues that electoral competition among White factions has created opportunities for Black leaders to win genuine political empowerment and avoid subordination When electoral competition among Whites does not exist Black votes lose their electoral leverage leading to the rise of extra electoral strategies Keiser s dynamic theory of leadership formation explains the current appeal of Black separatism and messianism at the local and national levels and the consequent rise of leaders such as Louis Farakhan and offers a rejoinder to Cornel West s critique of Black leadership in Race Matters
