Catechizing Culture:

Catechizing Culture Andrew Orta,2004-12-01 Nearly five centuries after the first wave of Catholic missionaries arrived in the New World to spread their Christian message contemporary religious workers in the Bolivian highlands have begun to encourage Aymara Indians to return to traditional ritual practices All but eradicated after hundreds of years of missionization the old ways are now viewed as local cultural expressions of Christian values In order to become more Christian the Aymara must now become more Indian This groundbreaking study of the contemporary encounter between Catholic missionaries and Aymara Indians is the first ethnography to focus both on the evangelizers and the evangelized Andrew Orta explores the pastoral shift away from liberation theology that dominated Latin American missionization up until the mid 1980s to the recent theology of inculturation which upholds the beliefs and practices of a supposedly pristine Aymara culture as indigenous expressions of a more universal Christianity Addressing essential questions in cultural anthropology religious studies postcolonial studies and globalization studies Catechizing Culture is a sophisticated documentation of the widespread shift from the politics of class to the politics of ethnicity and multiculturalism

Conversion of a Continent Timothy Steigenga,Edward L. Cleary,2009-11-27 A massive religious transformation has unfolded over the past forty years in Latin America and the Caribbean In a region where the Catholic Church could once claim a near monopoly of adherents religious pluralism has fundamentally altered the social and religious landscape Conversion of a Continent brings together twelve original essays that document and explore competing explanations for how and why conversion has occurred Contributors draw on various insights from social movement theory to religious studies to help outline its impact on national attitudes and activities gender relations identity politics and reverse waves of missions from Latin America aimed at the American immigrant community Unlike other studies on religious conversion this volume pays close attention to who converts under what circumstances the meaning of conversion to the individual and how the change affects converts beliefs and actions The thematic focus makes this volume important to students and scholars in both religious studies and Latin American studies

Concepts of Conversion Lars Kirkhusmo Pharo,2017-12-18 There has not been conducted much research in religious studies and linguistic anthropology analysing Protestant missionary linguistic translations Contemporary Protestant missionary linguists employ grammars dictionaries literacy campaigns and translations of the Bible in particular the New Testament in order to convert local cultures The North American institutions SIL and Wycliffe Bible Translators WBT are one of the greatest scientific evangelical missionary enterprises in the world The ultimate objective is to translate the Bible to every language The author has undertaken systematic research employing comparative linguistic methodology and field interviews for a history of ideas religions and epistemologies explication of translated SIL missionary linguistic New Testaments and its premeditated impact upon religions languages sociopolitical institutions and cultures In addition to taking into account the history of missionary linguistics in America and theological principles of SIL WBT the author has examined the intended cultural transformative effects of Bible translations upon cognitive and linguistic systems A theoretical analytic model of conversion and translation has been put forward for comparative research of religion ideology and knowledge systems

Indigenous Alliance Making James Andrew Whitaker, Mark Harris, 2025-10-14 This volume foregrounds agency in examining histories of how Indigenous people in lowland South America intentionally engaged with outsiders in colonial and postcolonial eras Anthropologists and historians show how local people formed strategic partnerships to defend livelihoods territory and symbolic values as well as to curb exploitation predation and threats

A Long Walk, a Gradual Ascent Nancy J. Thomas, 2019-12-05 A Long Walk a Gradual Ascent tells the one hundred year story of the development of the Friends Church INELA among the Aymara peoples of the Bolivian Andes It stretches from the beginnings of the INELA on the shores of Lake Titicaca around 1915 until the present time 2017 along with the story of the Oregon Friends Mission that accompanied the church for seventy two years Today the INELA spreads over fifteen districts with some two hundred congregations The church is still predominately Aymara The book considers the influence of history and culture on each phase of the church s development exploring the complexity of planting a peace church such as the Quakers in a setting of so much conflict The book also explores the missiological significance of the changing relationship between church and mission and wrestles with denominational emphases and how they impacted the expression of an indigenous Aymara church

Beyond Neoliberalism in Latin America? John Burdick, Philip Oxhorn, Kenneth M. Roberts, 2009 While the neoliberal model continues to dominate economic and political life in Latin America people throughout the region have begun to strategize about how to move beyond this model What are the alternatives they imagine Do these alternatives represent a genuine break Twelve cutting edge papers investigate how Latin Americans are struggling to articulate a future in which neoliberalism is reconfigured

Millennial Ecuador Norman E Whitten, Norman Earl Whitten (Jr.), 2003-12 Millennial Ecuador is a superb collection of essays by leading anthropologists historians and indigenous intellectuals that provides a multifaceted critical view of the social and cultural practices of Andean Amazonian and Afro Ecuadorean peoples engaged in mounting political struggles Focusing on the clash between structural and contra structural power on empowerment processes of traditionally disenfranchised populations and on multiple and competing representations of current confrontations the book constitutes an outstanding analysis of the contradictions of modern and millennial globality of local cases Fernando Santos Granero author of The Power of Love The Moral Use of Knowledge amongst the Amuesha of Central Peru Labour, 1995 Bibliographic Index, 2008 American Book Publishing Record, 2003
