Architecture in Black Darell Wayne Fields, 2015-03-12 Based on analysis of historical philosophical and semiotic texts Architecture in Black presents a systematic examination of the theoretical relationship between architecture and blackness Now updated this original study draws on a wider range of case studies highlighting the racial techniques that can legitimize modern historicity philosophy and architectural theory Arguing that architecture as an aesthetic practice and blackness as a linguistic practice operate within the same semiotic paradigm Darell Fields employs a technique whereby works are related through the repetition and revision of their semiotic structures Fields reconstructs the genealogy of a black racial subject represented by the simultaneous reading of a range of canonical texts from Hegel to Saussure to Henry Louis Gates Jr Combining an historical survey of racial discourse with new readings resulting from advanced semiotic techniques doubling as spatial arrangements Architecture in Black is an important contribution to studies of the racial in Western thought and its impact on architecture space and time

Architecture in Black Darell Wayne Fields, 2000-03-04 Architecture in Black argues that architecture as an aesthetic practice and blackness as a linguistic practice operate within the same semiotic paradigm The book presents the first systematic analysis of the theoretical relationship between architecture and blackness Employing a technique whereby texts are related through the repetition and revision of their semiotic structures Architecture in Black reconstructs the genealogy of a black racial subject represented by the simultaneous reading of a range of canonical apparatus invented by this reading is then used to critique a discrete set of architectural texts demonstrating the presence of the black vernacular in contemporary architectural theory

Mitchell, 2003 another missing piece of our rich history and profound contribution to western civilization For history buffs please put this book on your must read list George C Fraser Author of Race For Success and Success Runs In Our Race Mitchell believes that the entire future of blacks in the field of architecture is in jeopardy He then discusses the impact of the Harlem Renaissance on black architecture and the subsequent emergence of Howard University as the center of the black architectural universe The Journal of Blacks in Higher Education seminal Architecture Magazine In this long overdue book aimed at Black America and her allies Melvin Mitchell poses the question why haven't black architects developed a Black Architecture that complements modernist black culture that is rooted in world class blues jazz hip hop music and other black aesthetic forms His provocative thesis inspired by Harold Cruse's landmark book The Crisis of the Negro Intellectual exposes the roots of an eighty year old estrangement between black architects and Black America Along the way he provides interesting details about the politics of downtown development in the Marion Barry era of Washington DC Mitchell calls for a bold and inclusive New Black Urbanism He sees the radical reform and re-missioning of the handful of accredited HBCU based architecture schools as a critical tool in refashioning a rapprochement between black architects and Black America percent of the profession in the United States Many of their works exist in the Black community and have helped preserve and restore history and culture Though architecture is often not associated with Black Culture it is an integral aspect in defining a community and requires careful consideration of design context and resident relationships This book explores over forty works by Black architects and their impact in the Black community A wide variety of projects are featured from residences of affluent African Americans to historic churches to memorials and museums of Black culture and history Each work through brief examination of its history and architecture exhibits the magnificent work of Black architects from past to present and provides inspiration to architects of current and future generations

The Black Skyscraper Adrienne Brown, 2017-11-15 How did writers and artists view the intersection of architecture and race in the modernist era Winner of the MSA First Book Prize of the Modernist Studies Association With the development of the first skyscrapers in the 1880s urban built environments could expand vertically as well as horizontally Tall buildings emerged in growing cities to house and manage the large and racially diverse populations of migrants and immigrants flocking to their centers following Reconstruction Beginning with Chicago's early 10 story towers and concluding with the 1931 erection of the 102 story Empire State Building Adrienne Brown's The Black Skyscraper provides a detailed account of how scale and proximity shape our understanding of race Over the next half century as city skylines grew American writers imagined the new urban backdrop as an obstacle to racial differentiation Examining works produced by writers painters architects and laborers who grappled with the early skyscraper's outsized and disorienting dimensions Brown explores this architecture's effects on how race was seen read and sensed at the turn of the twentieth century In lesser known works of apocalyptic science fiction light romance and Jazz Age melodrama as well as in more canonical works by W E B Du Bois F Scott Fitzgerald Aaron Douglas and Nella Larsen the skyscraper mediates the process of seeing and being seen as a racialized subject From its distancing apex reducing bodies to specks to the shadowy mega blocks it formed at street level the skyscraper called attention Brown argues to the malleable nature of perception A highly interdisciplinary work The Black Skyscraper reclaims the influence of race on modern architectural design as well as the less well understood effects these designs had on the experience and perception of race

Mason, 2022 Building Black Towards Antiracist Architecture brings together the forefronts of Black Studies and architectural theory Only recently architecture and urban planning have started to confront their constitution of race as a social referent and their part in the establishment of racist logics This confrontation usually results in projects that respond to their surroundings that merge into a changing and multicultural city Building Black however proposes the construction of a Black radical position building islands of resistance against the expanding sea of imperial architecture In Building Black Mason reads the racial meaning of current construction projects in England through the histories of race and architecture Closely reading Immanuel Kant's formulation of the Subject as the creator of space and the development of whiteness in Modernist architecture Mason finds that Blackness is an ongoing antecedent island that can never quite be subsumed in the racializing project of modernity Pushing this further he positions antiracist architecture on a self enclosed island de linked from the city preserving a sociality that cannot be incorporated into liberal universality Alongside sustained critiques of architectural theory and Western philosophy and close engagements with Black Studies and Indigenous thinking Mason offer a critique of the writing subject as a collaborator in the racialization of urban cartography In response Mason turns inwards in this book opening the impossibility of the writer s position in architecture and philosophy and setting up an alternative mode of self critical architectural writing Elliot C Mason is a PhD candidate in Black studies and poetry at Uppsala University in Sweden His essays and poetry have been widely published including in the Journal of Italian Philosophy Tribune 3 AM Magma and SPAM He has written three plays and translated contemporary poetry between English and Spanish alongside his work on many exhibitions talks and performances with his group Penny Drops Collective He is the author of The Instagram Archipelago Race Gender and the Lives of Dead Fish Zer0 Books 2022 and two collections of poetry City Embers Death of Workers Whilst Building Skyscrapers Press 2021 and Materials for Building a City Marble Books 2021 A section of Building Black was shortlisted for the Fitzcarraldo Essay Prize 2020 A full list of publications and a selection of work is available on his website pennydropscollective org Having lived in London for over ten years in 2021 Mason moved with his partner Eugenia Lapteva to Stockholm
