Development Administration In A Changing Society:

Changing Administration, Changing Society Peter Herrmann, Sabine Herrenbrueck, 2007 Welfare is a current global issue challenging the lives of many. Investigations are constantly being made to find answers in search of the most proficient social model. This book presents the usefulness of an enhanced model for welfare regime analysis and shows the localisation of social professional orientations. This includes social quality, social professions, traditions, public services, globalisation, child protection, retirement plans, and other social services.

Planning, Development, and Change Garth N. Jones, 1970 USA. Partly annotated bibliography of publications relating to administrative aspects of economic planning and social planning. Includes publications on economic administration, social change, economic development, public administration, community development, industrialization, programme planning, and budgeting etc.

Development Administration in a Changing Society Ram Dutt Sharma, 1987. Development Administration In A Changing Society. The book is an outcome of the efforts of the Post Graduate Centre of Public Administration, Simla 1, which had organised a seminar in November 1984. There was a most encouraging response from administrators and academicians from Punjab and Himachal Pradesh. The book focuses attention on development as a concept and economic conditions and problems of an underdeveloped state. Himachal Pradesh is a less known region of India. The authors of various papers had taken up the challenge to study the infra-structural facilities and make suggestions to improve the administrative techniques of an underdeveloped state. The book emphasises on the teething problems of hydro electric power, construction of roads, medical care facilities, and problems of development of tribal areas etc. One of the sections of the book is devoted to personnel problems and development of personnel. Administrative culture, economic problems of the state, and administration for development.
