Needles from the Nile Chris Elliott, 2022-04-15 In the hearts of London and New York stand their two oldest public monuments Cleopatra's Needles the last of a series of obelisks from Ancient Egypt to be moved abroad during a period of over two thousand years This book uses the Needles to examine how objects embody the cultures that create them and how the use value and meaning of these objects change as they are transferred between cultures by gift sale barter or theft It explores the way in which obelisks functioned as imperial trophies how their transfer was part of the complex political manoeuvring between European powers America the Ottoman Empire and the semi autonomous rulers of Egypt and how their acquisition reflected the relative power of these parties In contrast it also examines the crucial role that private individuals and finance played in the acquisition and transport of the obelisks and how popular understanding of them and of the culture they came from often differed from those of social and professional elites It also relates the Needles to contemporary debates about the ownership of cultural artefacts the legacy of colonial history and the nature of reception as the process of understanding and valuing the past and its surviving material and immaterial culture

The Boys' Book of Stamp Collecting Douglas Brawn Armstrong, 1913 Our Egyptian Obelisk Sir Erasmus Wilson, 1877 Archaeological Ambassadors Elizabeth R.
