Basic From The Ground Up:

From the Ground Up Steven Cook, 2023-03-21 Taking Albert Park College from forced closure to Australia's School of the Year In 2006 Albert Park College a public secondary school in inner city Melbourne was closed after a dramatic loss in confidence caused enrolments to plummet Devastated yet determined parents rallied and convinced the education department to give the school a second chance The old buildings were bulldozed and a new school began to take shape At the same time experienced public school educator Steven Cook was in search of a fresh start He took on the job as principal of the new college moved into the local area became part of the community and got to work In 2021 Albert Park College was voted Australian School of the Year In From the Ground Up Steven Cook reveals how a thriving new college was created where the previous one had failed and what it takes to create a successful public school He reflects on his career as an educator and demonstrates how to rebuild and renew our public schools to give our young people and our nation a great future This is an inspiring story of how learning from our mistakes can result in our greatest achievements

From the Ground Up Stephen Kosack, Courtney Tolmie, Charles C. Griffin, 2010-04-01 This book is based on a simple concept no one is in a better position to hold a government accountable than those it governs When governments fail to meet the needs of their citizens the international community often turns to large external organizations such as the International Monetary Fund or the World Bank These analysts and monitors may have the resources and expertise to analyze and advise on public spending and governance but where do they go when the time comes to implement new policies And can they really have a more nuanced understanding of the country's problems than its own citizens Who is there to watch day and night to hold the government accountable From the Ground Up proposes that the international community's efforts to improve public expenditure and budget execution decisions would be more effective if done in collaboration with local independent monitoring organizations Stephen Kosack Courtney Tolmie and Charles Griffin track the work of sixteen independent monitoring organizations from across the developing world demonstrating how these relatively small groups of local researchers produce both thoughtful analysis and workable solutions They achieve these results because their vantage point allows them to more effectively discern problems with governance and to communicate with their fellow citizens about the ideals and methods of good governance The authors also outline some disadvantages facing independent monitoring organizations such as insufficient resources inadequate access to data and too little influence with high government officials Collaboration with larger international organizations could help independent monitoring organizations overcome such obstacles increasing their chances of improving governance from the ground up

From the Ground Up Amy Stewart, 2000-01-19 Amy Stewart had a simple dream She yearned for a garden filled with colorful jumbles of vegetables and flowers After she and her husband finished graduate school they pulled up their Texas roots and headed west to Santa Cruz California With little money in their pockets they rented a modest seaside bungalow with a small backyard It wasn't much a twelve hundred square foot patch of land with a couple of fruit trees and a lot of dirt A good place to start From the Ground Up is Stewart s quirky humorous chronicle of the blossoms and weeds in her first garden and the lessons she s learned the hard way From planting seeds her great grandmother sends to battling snails gophers and aphids Stewart takes us on a tour of four seasons in her coastal garden Confessing her sins and delighting in small triumphs she dishes the dirt for both the novice and the experienced gardener Along the way she brings her quintessential California beach town to life complete with harbor seals monarch butterfly migrations and an old fashioned seaside amusement park just down the street Each chapter includes helpful tips alongside the engaging story of a young woman s determination to create a garden in which the plants struggle to live up to the gardener s vision

Metaphor from the Ground Up Daniel C. Strack,2019-02-20 Metaphor from the Ground Up introduces Conceptual Filtering Theory a theory of mental processing that describes figurative language communication in terms of conceptual domain projection and contextual disambiguation In an attempt to match theoretical observations from cognitive semantics and pragmatics with related knowledge about mental processes from cognitive neuroscience CFT first examines the distributed nature of conceptualization and then uses this background information to explain metonymic binding and metaphoric mapping Once the perceptual origins of metonymy and metaphor have been demonstrated CFT offers a detailed account of how salient aspects of conceptualization differentially combine to achieve predictable inferencing results in linguistic communication In addition CFT characterizes the role of contextual effects in pruning salient inferencing options and demonstrates how situational frames can be manipulated to guide semantic outcomes The book as a whole will assert that figurative language processing cannot be characterized in terms of a generically constituted base system that receives inputs and spits out predictable results according to logical probability in a situational vacuum Rather it is a dynamic context sensitive process that continually reweights the underlying system so as to rapidly select situation relevant lines of inferencing from among a variety of salient inferencing options
