Gordh,1999-09-20 For many years the use of chemical agents such as pesticides and herbicides has been effective in controlling the many varieties of pests that infest both agricultural crops and backyard gardens However these pests are gradually becoming resistant to these agents because the agents themselves are acting as selective factors making the pests better and better able to resist and persist As a result the use of biological controlling agents is increasing This book is a comprehensive and authoritative handbook of biological control Biological Control in the Tropics Loke Wai Hong,1999 Proceedings of the National Interdisciplinary Biological Control Conference ,1983 Biological Control American Association for the Advancement of Science,1971 Biological Control: Measures of Success G.
