Steven Wells Hicks spent forty years as an increasingly frequent visitor in search of the stories people and dishes that make New Orleans one of America's legendary culinary playgrounds. Here he tells you about twenty five of the more memorable places he's uncovered from white tablecloth temples of cuisine to a lunchroom where boiled crawfish are served on yesterday's newspaper from a paper bag. You'll discover an old Mafia roadhouse in the boondocks, a fried chicken joint in an iffy part of town and even a greasy spoon where the main course is attitude. And that's just for starters. Plus because Man cannot live by French bread alone Hicks points you toward a dozen of the city's both famous and infamous watering holes. Unlike most conventional guidebooks featuring single paragraph hype pieces singing the praises of every restaurant in the city Hicks takes a novelist's approach to reviewing restaurants opting instead to write leisurely pieces that not only tell you what's on a restaurant's plate but also in a city's culinary heartbeat. Says Hicks in the book's preface: "Ultimately this book is a valentine, sometimes left handed but hopefully right minded to a city and the people of an industry that have simultaneously provided me with a lifetime of sensuous fulfillment while wreaking untold havoc with my waistline and the balance on my American Express card. Pulling no punches and pouring on the literary hot sauce when called for Hicks has written a book that has become required reading for serious food fanciers planning their first or fifty first pilgrimage to the undisputed Food Mecca on the Mighty Mississippi." The Official Railway Guide, 1909 Tujague's Cookbook Poppy Tooker, 2015. The second oldest restaurant in New Orleans continues today its tradition of serving excellent fresh Creole cuisine in the heart of the French Quarter. This mouthwatering cookbook offers a history of the beloved establishment food and beverage recipes from the 1850s to today and historical and food photographs. The dramatic story of the successful recent effort to save the restaurant from a possible sale is included. Etouffee, Mon Amour Kerri McCaffety, This luxurious photography book on New Orleans restaurants celebrates the city's love affair with food. From the legendary Tujague's to the down home Uglesich's these beloved establishments are shown off in all their glory for residents and visitors alike. From the antebellum legacies of grand old restaurants like Antoine's, Commander's Palace and Bruning's to the newcomers like Jacques-Imo's Bayona and Clancy's not to mention the legion in between the countless stories of establishments dedicated to the je ne sais quoi of dining form part of the essential history of New Orleans. This rich mix of history and evocative photographs documents an unparalleled majesty of the senses, a decadent revelry in the past and the daily marking of pleasure. Kerri McCaffety is the first place winner of the 1999 Society of American Travel Writers Lowell Thomas Award for a self illustrated article. The New Orleans Gulf South Booksellers Association named McCaffety's first book Obituary Cocktail Book of the Year for 1998. Her second book The Majesty of the French Quarter was called a vision to behold by Gambit literary reviewer Julia Kamysz Lane and easily one of the most handsome coffee table books in years by the Jackson Miss Clarion Ledger. The New Orleans Times Picayune referred to her third book The Majesty of St Charles Avenue as fit for royalty. Her writing and photojournalism appear in publications including the Oxford American, Town and Country, Historic Traveler, Colonial Homes, Southern Accents.
