Ancient Fields:

Ancient Fields H. C. Bowen, 1963 The Archaeology of Garden and Field Naomi F. Miller, Kathryn L. Gleason, 1997-09 Cultivation and land use practices the world over reflect many aspects of people's relationship to each other and to the natural world The Archaeology of Garden and Field explores the cultivation of land from prehistoric times to the nineteenth century through excavation experimentation and the study of modern cultural traditions The Archaeology of Garden and Field contains a wealth of information distilled from the combined experiences of the editors and contributors Whether one's interest is the Old World or the New prehistory or the present this book provides a starting point for anyone who has ever wondered how archaeologists find and interpret the ephemeral traces of ancient cultivation Cities, Monuments and Objects in the Roman and Byzantine Levant Walid Atrash, Andrew Overman, Peter Gendelman, 2022-11-10 Chapters by leading archaeologists in Israel and the Levant explore themes and sites connected with cities and villages from the Hellenistic to early Islamic periods across the region The result is a rich trove of up to date data and insights that will be a must read for scholars and students active in this part of the ancient Mediterranean world Agricultural and Pastoral Landscapes in Pre-Industrial Society Fèlix Retamero, Inge Schjellerup, Althea Davies, 2014-12-01 Through a series of case studies this third volume in the Earth series deals with the technological constraints and innovations that enabled societies to survive and thrive across a range of environmental conditions The contributions are structured into three sections to draw out particular commonalities and contrasts in the choices made by pre industrial communities in the construction of varied landscapes and cultural heritage Landnam from the Old Norse for taking of land deals with colonization including the drivers and processes through which colonizers developed an understanding of the productive potential and limitations of their new lands Fields and field systems Field walls are a distinctive and apparently timeless characteristic of many pre industrial farming landscapes but they present many the challenges to their study such as the effects of plowing abandonment and land use change and of urban development in fertile lowland zones which may eradicate reduce or conceal past systems of land use and division The importance of indirect and proxy evidence is illustrated and the value of interdisciplinary and modeling approaches emphasized Agro pastoralism focuses on the complex time space adaptations devised for managing cultivation and livestock production particularly the need to prevent stock incursions into arable fields during the growing season whilst making effective use of seasonal grazing resources The contributions focus on mountainous areas where temporary migrations in the form of transhumance provided access to a diversity of resources based around seasonal constraints on their availability and productivity Archaeological Landscapes of the Near East T. J. Wilkinson, 2003-11-01 Society for American Archaeology Book Award Winner Many fundamental studies of the origins of states have built upon landscape data but an overall study of the Near Eastern landscape itself has never been attempted Spanning thousands of years of history the ancient Near East presents a bewildering range of landscapes the understanding of which can greatly enhance our ability to infer past political and social systems Tony Wilkinson now shows that throughout the Holocene humans altered the Near Eastern environment so thoroughly that the land has become a human artifact albeit one that retains the power to shape human societies In this trailblazing book the first to describe and explain the development of the Near Eastern landscape using archaeological data Wilkinson identifies specific landscape signatures for various regions and periods from the early stages of complex societies in the fifth to sixth millennium B C to the close of the Early Islamic period around the tenth century A D From Bronze Age city states to colonized steppes these signature landscapes of irrigation systems tells and other features changed through time along with changes in social economic political and environmental conditions By weaving together the record of the human landscape with evidence of settlement the environment and social and economic conditions Wilkinson provides a holistic view of the ancient Near East that complements archaeological excavations cuneiform texts and other conventional sources Through this overview culled from thirty years research Wilkinson establishes a new framework for understanding the economic and physical infrastructure of the region By describing the basic attributes of the ancient cultural landscape and placing their development within the context of a dynamic environment he breaks new ground in landscape archaeology and offers a new context for understanding the ancient Near East The Archaeology of Malta

Claudia Sagona,2015-08-25 This book synthesizes the archaeology of the Maltese archipelago from the first human colonization c 5000 BC through the Roman period c 400 AD Claudia Sagona interprets the archaeological record to explain changing social and political structures intriguing ritual practices and cultural contact through several millennia

Transactions Newcomen Society (Great Britain),1928 Method and Theory in Paleoethnobotany John M. Marston,Jade d'Alpoim Guedes,Christina Warinner,2014-09-15 Paleoethnobotany the study of archaeological plant remains is poised at the intersection of the study of the past and concerns of the present including agricultural decision making biodiversity and global environmental change and has much to offer to archaeology anthropology and the interdisciplinary study of human relationships with the natural world Method and Theory in Paleoethnobotany demonstrates those connections and highlights the increasing relevance of the study of past human plant interactions for understanding the present and future A diverse and highly regarded group of scholars reference a broad array of literature from around the world as they cover their areas of expertise in the practice and theory of paleoethnobotany starch grain analysis stable isotope analysis ancient DNA digital data management and ecological and postprocessual theory The only comprehensive edited volume focusing on method and theory to appear in the last twenty five years Method and Theory in Paleoethnobotany addresses the new areas of inquiry that have become central to contemporary archaeological debates as well as the current state of theoretical methodological and empirical work in paleoethnobotany Ancient Fields.
