Child And Curriculum School Soci:

The Child and the Curriculum John Dewey, 2010-01-01 In this single volume readers will find two of John Dewey's insightful essays on education in America. He considered proper education to be fundamental to a functioning democracy. The problem according to Dewey in The School and Society with the old education model was that elementary schools did not encourage exploration and curiosity in their students. In The Child and the Curriculum Dewey expands upon his definition of the ideal teaching method. A child's life, he says, is an integrated whole. A child will flow from one topic to another taking a natural interest in subjects and dealing with a world of direct experience. School, on the other hand, addresses a world disconnected from a child's life. A more reasonable approach would be to strive to integrate their experience with the vast body of knowledge that society wishes them to know. By honoring the individual, both the student and the subject matter will come together in a process that produces a mature adult. American educator and philosopher JOHN DEWEY (1859-1952) helped found the American Association of University Professors. He served as professor of philosophy at Columbia University from 1904 to 1930 and authored numerous books including How We Think (1910), Experience and Nature (1925), Experience and Education (1938), and Freedom and Culture (1939).

The Child and the Curriculum John Dewey, 1902 The School and Society and The Child and the Curriculum John Dewey, 2024-05-31 This edition brings Dewey's educational theory into sharp focus, framing his two classic works by frank assessments past and present of the practical applications of Dewey's ideas. In addition to a substantial introduction in which Philip W. Jackson explains why more of Dewey's ideas haven't been put into practice, this edition restores a lost chapter dropped from the book by Dewey in 1915.

The School and Society John Dewey, 2008-12 These two influential books represent the earliest authoritative statement of Dewey's revolutionary emphasis on education as an experimental, child-centered process. He declares that we must make schools an embryonic community life and stresses the importance of the curriculum as a means of determining the environment of the child.
