Distant Music:

Distant Music Lee Langley, 2012-02-29 A richly imaginative novel of love loss time and the rise and fall of a great maritime empire that sends two thwarted lovers spiralling through the chaos of history The story begins in 1429 on Madeira when a peasant girl meets a boy a Jewish outsider from a Portuguese sailing ship Esperan a and Emmanuel know they must part when the ship sails From that first meeting and parting others follow Emmanuel is in turn sailor mapmaker bookseller jazz musician Esperan a an illiterate peasant a rich girl in Faro and a clever bookish recluse who confronts a murderer in nineteenth century Lisbon In twentieth century London Esperan a is faced with a double incarnation one of the true Emmanuel and the other a shadow Over the centuries the couple face peril and tenderness Each life is short What survives is love

Saying I No More Daniel Katz, 1999 This study argues that the expression of voicelessness in Beckett is not silence Rather the negativity and negation so evident in his work are not simply affirmed but the emptiness can all too easily itself become an affirmation of power

Reading Time in Music Sarah Cash, 2023-03-27 In this book Sarah Cash examines the intersection of music and temporality in British literature of the long nineteenth century The sound spaces created at these intersections function as antimimetic resistance to hegemonic structures Through its temporal multiplicity music resonates in excess of linear time revealing a metaphoric soundness in the text that subverts reader expectation and reveals how seemingly realist nineteenth century novels transgress the limitations of their classic narratological structures In even the most apparently realist texts the most extravagant excessive and hyperbolic elements exceed the bounds of what we often consider real disrupting mimetic bias Cash argues that music offers the most dynamic way to expose this vexed temporality in the text Through scholarly intervention a disruption of historic classifications show that Victorians are heirs of Romanticism s musical ideals including the power of music to penetrate and transform space and time and the permanence of sound as it reverberates beyond human perception Scholars of nineteenth century literature temporality and gender studies will find this book of particular interest

The Song Weaver B J Hoff, 2007-04-15 Bestselling author B J Hoff will delight readers as her unforgettable characters from A Distant Music and The Wind Harp reunite for a dramatic conclusion to The Mountain Song Legacy trilogy When a shadow falls over the MacAuley family newlyweds Jonathan and Maggie Stuart find their faith and newly discovered happiness tested in unforeseen ways An abrupt summons to return from their honeymoon wrenches them from the joy of their early days of marriage and thrusts them into the midst of a family in anguish Responsible for helping their loved ones heal while maintaining and nurturing their own relationship and their love for each other the young couple faces a challenge that will ultimately define their marriage and decide their future About This Series Based on her popular novella The Penny Whistle bestselling novelist B J Hoff has expanded the story of young Maggie MacAuley and her family into a heartwarming trilogy A Distant Music The Wind Harp and The Song Weaver

The Wind Harp B J Hoff, 2006-08-01 B J Hoff s unforgettable characters from A Distant Music reunite for an even more gripping dramatic episode in The Mountain Song Legacy When Maggie MacAuley returns to the small coal town of her childhood she has no intention of staying Her life is in Chicago now There s nothing to keep her in Skingle Creek nothing but the discovery that a man who has lived most of his life for the children of Skingle Creek is no longer the hero of Maggie s childhood but seems destined to become the love of her life In Maggie s quest for independence she finds her greatest strength in sacrifice and in her struggle to heal her family she finds her heart renewed by love
