Gaul, 2012-12-06 Proceedings of the NATO Advanced Research Workshop on Data Expert Knowledge and Decisions held in Hamburg FRG September 3 5 1989 Uncertainty in Knowledge Bases Bernadette Bouchon-Meunier, Ronald R. Yager, Lotfi A. Zadeh, 1991-09-11 One out of every two men over eighty suffers from carcinoma of the prostate It is discovered incidentally in many patients with an alleged benign prostatic hyperplasia In treating patients the authors make clear that primary radical prostatectomy is preferred over transurethral resection due to the lower complication rate PRICAI '96: Topics in Artificial Intelligence Norman Foo, Randy Goebel, 1996 This volume constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th Pacific Rim International Conference on Artificial Intelligence PRICAI 96 held in Cairns Queensland Australia in August 1996 The 56 revised full papers included in the book were carefully selected for presentation at the conference from a total of 175 submissions The topics covered are machine learning interactive systems knowledge representation reasoning about change neural nets and uncertainty natural language constraint satisfaction and optimization qualitative reasoning automated deduction nonmonotonic reasoning intelligent agents planning and pattern recognition Computational Statistics Yadolah Dodge, Joe Whittaker, 2013-11-11 The Role of the Computer in Statistics David Cox Nuffield College Oxford OX1 1NF U K A classification of statistical problems via their computational demands hinges on four components I the amount and complexity of the data ii the specificity of the objectives of the analysis iii the broad aspects of the approach to analysis iv the conceptual mathematical and numerical analytic complexity of the methods Computational requirements may be limiting in I and iv either through the need for special programming effort or because of the difficulties of initial data management or because of the load of detailed analysis The implications of modern computational developments for statistical work can be illustrated in the context of the study of specific probabilistic models the development of general statistical theory the design of investigations and the analysis of empirical data While simulation is usually likely to be the most sensible way of investigating specific complex stochastic models computerized algebra has an obvious role in the more analytical work It seems likely that statistics and applied probability have made insufficient use of developments in numerical analysis associated more with classical applied mathematics in particular in the solution of large systems of ordinary and partial differential equations integral equations and integro differential equations and for the derivation of useful information from integral transforms Increasing emphasis on models incorporating specific subject matter considerations is one route to bridging the gap between statistical analysis Handbook of Categorization in Cognitive Science Henri Cohen, Claire Lefebvre, 2017-06-03 Handbook of Categorization in Cognitive Science Second Edition presents the study of categories and the process of categorization as viewed through the lens of the founding disciplines of the cognitive sciences and how the study of categorization has long been at the core of each of these disciplines The literature on categorization reveals there is a plethora of definitions theories models and methods to apprehend this central object of study The contributions in this handbook reflect this diversity For example the notion of category is not uniform across these contributions and there are multiple definitions of the notion of concept Furthermore the study of category and categorization is approached differently within each discipline For some authors the categories themselves constitute the object of study whereas for others it is the process of categorization and for others still it is the technical manipulation of large chunks of information Finally yet another contrast has to do with the biological versus artificial nature of agents or categorizers Defines notions of category and categorization Discusses the nature of categories discrete vague or other Explores the modality effects on categories Bridges the category divide calling attention to the bridges that have already been built and avenues for further cross fertilization between disciplines
