Born In Flames:

Born in Flames Lizzie Borden, 2011 An illustrated transcript of Lizzie Borden's 1983 film Born in Flames edited and designed by Kaisa Lassarano. It includes an interview with Borden conducted in L.A. by Lassarano as well as the lyrics of Undercover Nation by The Bloods and Born in Flames by Red Crayola, kindly supplied by Adele Bertei and Mayo Thompson. Released as a motion picture in 1983, the film is a futuristic fable of feminist turmoil still brewing ten years after the Second American Revolution. When Adelaide Norris, the Black radical founder of the Woman's Army, is mysteriously killed, a diverse coalition of women across all lines of race, class, and sexual preference emerges to blow the System apart. With their fury growing and all peaceful options exhausted, women overcome divisions of race, class, and sexual orientation to form a guerilla movement to take over control of the media. The film poses the question of whether oppression against women will be eliminated under any kind of social system.

Born in Flames, 2013 Born in Flames Lizzie Borden, 2011 The (Moving) Pictures Generation V. Dika, 2012-03-14 Beginning in the late 1970s, a number of visual artists in downtown New York City returned to an exploration of the cinematic across mediums. Vera Dika considers their work within a greater cultural context and probes for a deeper understanding of the practice.

Fire Dreams Laura McTighe, 2024-01-22 For thirty-five years, the New Orleans-based Black feminist collective Women With A Vision (WWAV) has fought for the liberation of their communities through reproductive justice, harm reduction, abolition feminism, racial justice, and sex workers' rights. In 2012, shortly after one of WWAV's biggest organizing victories, arsonists firebombed and destroyed their headquarters. Fire Dreams is an innovative collaboration between WWAV and Laura McTighe, who work in community to build a social movement ethnography of the organization's post-arson rebirth. Rooting WWAV in the geography of the South and the living history of generations of Black feminist thinkers, McTighe and WWAV weave together stories from their founders' pioneering work during the Black HIV/AIDS crisis in the 1980s and their groundbreaking organizing to end criminalization in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, with other movements for liberation as accomplices. Together, the authors refuse the logics of racial capitalism and share WWAV's own world-building knowledges, as well as their methods for living these Black feminist futures now. Fire Dreams is a vital toolkit for grassroots organizers, activist scholars, and all those who dream to make the world otherwise.

Born in Flames Lizzie Borden, 2011 Women Film Directors Gwendolyn A. Foster, 1995-11-14 Until now, there hasn't been one single, authoritative reference work on the history of women in film, highlighting nearly every woman filmmaker from the dawn of cinema, including Alice Guy (France, 1896), Chantal Akerman (Belgium), Penny Marshall (U.S.), and Sally Potter (U.K.). Every effort has been made to include every kind of woman filmmaker, commercial and mainstream, avant-garde and minority, and to give a complete cross-section of the work of these remarkable women. Scholars and students of film, popular culture, Women's Studies, and International Studies, as well as film buffs, will learn much from this work. The Dictionary covers the careers of nearly 200 women filmmakers, giving vital statistics where available, listings of films directed by these women and selected bibliographies for further reading This is a one volume one stop resource a comprehensive up to date guide that is absolutely essential for any course offering an overview or survey of women s cinema It offers not only all available statistics but critical evaluations of the filmmakers work as well In order to keep the length manageable this volume focuses on women who direct fictional narrative films with occasional forays into the area of the documentary and is limited to film production rather than video production

Lesbian Potentiality and Feminist Media in the 1970s Jed Samer, 2022-02-04 In Lesbian Potentiality and Feminist Media in the 1970s Jed Samer explores how 1970s feminists took up the figure of the lesbian in broad attempts to reimagine gender and sexuality Samer turns to feminist film video and science fiction literature offering a historiographical concept called lesbian potentiality a way of thinking beyond what the lesbian was in favor of how the lesbian signified what could have come to be Samer shows how the labor of feminist media workers and fans put lesbian potentiality into movement They see lesbian potentiality in feminist prison documentaries that theorize the prison industrial complex s racialized and gendered violence and give image to Black feminist love politics and freedom dreaming Lesbian potentiality also circulates through the alternative spaces created by feminist science fiction and fantasy fanzines like The Witch and the Chameleon and Janus It was here that author James Tiptree Jr Alice B Sheldon felt free to do gender differently and inspired many others to do so in turn Throughout Samer embraces the perpetual reimagination of lesbian and the lesbian s former futures for the sake of continued radical world building
