

The Major Companies With the Highest-Paying Entry-Level Jobs

According to data from the BLS, jobs that require at least five years of experience pay 2.1 times more than jobs with no experience requirement.¹ While many of the highest-paying jobs are senior roles, there are a handful of major companies offering highly competitive wages for entry-level positions.

Many of the most lucrative jobs for junior employees are at large healthcare, finance and retail companies. On Indeed, 87.8% of jobs listed by the Texas-headquartered Tenet Healthcare Corporation offer salaries above the median local wage – the largest share of any company. Not far behind is Citigroup, with 82.5% of entry-level job salaries above the median area wage.

● % Entry Jobs Above Median Pay

Methodology: We ranked large companies based on the percentage of entry-level job listings on Indeed whose advertised salaries are above the annual median wage for the city in which they are listed, based on local wage data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics.
