Liturgical Sources (Classic Reprint) Sophia Anne Cotton, 2015-07-04 Excerpt from Ancient Devotions for Holy Communion From Eastern and Western Liturgical Sources The following collection of devotions for Holy Communion was undertaken with the object of giving to English speaking Catholics an opportunity to use if they so desired some of the ancient prayers contained in the many Eastern and Western liturgies which gradually developed during the first ages of Christianity and are still in use amongst various religious communities united to or unhappily separated from the Apostolic See It seemed to the compiler who had at one time made an effort to collect as many of the English translations of these liturgies as he could in any way obtain that the dignity and beauty of many of these prayers would be appreciated by Catholics if a collection of them was made and published in a form convenient for practical use He has therefore endeavoured to bring together a collection which might be suitable for the use of Catholic of to day and acting upon the advice of those who were most competent to give it has not hesitated in some instances to alter phrases which might seem ambiguous or difficult of comprehension and so hinder the usefulness of the work About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
