Between Past Future:

Visions of the Future in Roman Frontier Kingdoms 100 BCE-100 CE Richard Teverson, 2024-09-03 This is the first book length exploration of the ways art from the edges of the Roman Empire represented the future examining visual representations of time and the role of artwork in Roman imperial systems This book focuses on four kingdoms from across the empire Cottius s Alpine kingdom in the north King Juba II s Mauretania in the south west Herodian Judea in the east and Kommagene to the north east Art from the imperial frontier is rarely considered through the lens of the aesthetics of time and Roman provincial art and the monuments of allied rulers are typically interpreted as evidence of the interaction between Roman and local identities In this interdisciplinary study which explores statues wall paintings coins monuments and inscriptions readers learn that these artworks served as something more they were created to represent the futures that allied rulers and their people foresaw The pressure of Roman imperialism drove patrons and artists on the empire s borders to imbue their creations with increasingly sophisticated ideas about the future as they wrestled with consequential decisions made under periods of intense political pressure Comprehensively illustrated and providing an important new approach to Roman material culture at the edge of empire Visions of the Future in Roman Frontier Kingdoms 100 BCE 100 CE is suitable for students and scholars working on Rome and its frontiers as well as Roman material culture more broadly and those studying the aesthetics of time in art and art history

The Demons of Science Friedel Weinert, 2016-05-19 This book is the first all encompassing exploration of the role of demons in philosophical and scientific thought experiments In Part I the author explains the importance of thought experiments in science and philosophy Part II considers Laplace s Demon whose claim is that the world is completely deterministic Part III introduces Maxwell s Demon who by contrast experiences a world that is probabilistic and indeterministic Part IV explores Nietzsche s thesis of the cyclic and eternal recurrence of events In each case a number of philosophical consequences regarding determinism and indeterminism the arrows of time the nature of the mind and free will are said to follow from the Demons s worldviews The book investigates what these Demons and others can and cannot tell us about our world

The Anthem Companion to Maurice Halbwachs Robert Leroux, Jean-Christophe Marcel, 2021-07-06 This book seeks to place Halbwachs in his historical and intellectual context showing that his work was sensitive to the events of his time and that the development of his analysis could be influenced by happenstance The book does this not by summarizing or synthesizing his thinking by the growing literature embodied by many sociologists and historians of social sciences published for the most part in scientific journals that focus on the sociological thought that Halbwachs developed in his writings Then come many studies that emerge from the history of ideas and epistemology these are entirely devoted to a particular facet of Halbwachs work either to place it in its scientific context or to discuss it on the basis of fundamental cognitive issues

Thinking with Kierkegaard Arne Grøn, 2022-12-31 Arne Grøn s reading of S ren Kierkegaard s authorship revolves around existential challenges of human identity The 35 essays that constitute this book are written over three decades and are characterized by combining careful attention to the augmentative detail of Kierkegaard's text with a constant focus on issues in contemporary philosophy. Contrary to many approaches to Kierkegaard's authorship, Grøn does not read Kierkegaard in opposition to Hegel. The work of the Danish thinker is read as a critical development of Hegelian phenomenology with particular attention to existential aspects of human experience. Anxiety and despair are the primary existential phenomena that Kierkegaard examines throughout his authorship and Grøn uses these negative phenomena to argue for the basically ethical aim of Kierkegaard's work. In Grøn's reading, Kierkegaard conceives human selfhood not merely as relational but also a process of becoming the self that one is through the otherness of self-experience that is the body, the world, other people, and God. This book should be of interest to philosophers, theologians, literary studies scholars, and anyone with an interest not only in Kierkegaard but also in human identity.

The Coming of God Jürgen Moltmann, Margaret Kohl, 2004-07-27 Winner of Grawemeyer Award. In this remarkable and timely work, in many ways the culmination of his systematic theology, world-renowned theologian Jürgen Moltmann stands Christian eschatology on its head. Moltmann rejects the traditional approach which focuses on the End as an apocalyptic finale as a kind of Christian search for the final solution. He centers instead on hope and God's promise of new creation for all things. Christian eschatology, he says, is the remembered hope of the raising of the crucified Christ, so it talks about beginning afresh in the deadly end. Yet Moltmann's novel framework, deeply informed by Jewish and messianic thought, also fosters rich and creative insights into the perennially nettling questions of eschatology: Are there eternal life and personal identity after death? How is one to think of heaven, hell, and purgatory? What are the historical and cosmological dimensions of Christian hope? What are its social and political implications? In a heartbreakingly fragile and fragment world, Moltmann's comprehensive eschatology surveys the Christian vista bravely envisioning our horizons of expectation for personal, social, even cosmic transformation in God.
