Gutgold, 2008-01-01 This book chronicles the careers communication styles and lives of twelve prominent women in television broadcasting and discusses the obstacles and opportunities in the television broadcasting field as they relate to women The importance of the role of television anchor seems insignificant when compared to the career milestones of women in more academic fields yet the role of messenger_ the person who delivers news_ is one of the most visible and prestigious in America Barbara Walters Jason Bonderoff, 1975

New York Magazine, 1973-07-16 New York Magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award-winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea.

Audition Barbara Walters, 2008

Young people starting out in television sometimes say to me, "I want to be you." My stock reply is always, "Then you have to take the whole package." And now, at last, the most important woman in the history of television journalism gives us that whole package in her inspiring and riveting memoir. After more than forty years of interviewing heads of state, world leaders, movie stars, criminals, murderers, inspirational figures, and celebrities of all kinds, Barbara Walters has turned her gift for examination onto herself to reveal the forces that shaped her extraordinary life.

Barbara Walters's perception of the world was formed at a very early age. Her father, Lou Walters, was the owner and creative mind behind the legendary Latin Quarter nightclub, and it was his risk-taking lifestyle that gave Barbara her first taste of glamour. It also made her aware of the ups and downs, the insecurities, and even the tragedies that can occur when someone is willing to take great risks. For Lou Walters didn't just make several fortunes; he also lost them. Barbara learned early about the damage that such an existence can do to relationships between husband and wife, as well as between parent and child.

Through her roller coaster ride of a childhood, Barbara had a close companion: her mentally challenged sister, Jackie True. Jackie taught her younger sister much about patience and compassion, but Barbara also writes honestly about the resentment she often felt having a sister who was so different and the guilt that still haunts her.

All of this—the financial responsibility for her family, the fear, the love, the choices she made as she grew up, the friendships she developed, the relationships she had, the marriages she tried to make work—ultimately, thanks to her drive combined with a decent amount of luck, she began a career in television. And what a career it has been. Against great odds, Barbara has made it to the top of a male-dominated industry. She was the first woman cohost of the Today show, the first female network news coanchor, the host and producer of countless top-rated Specials, the star of 20/20, and the creator and cohost of The View. She has not just interviewed the world's most fascinating figures; she has become a part of their world. These are just a few of the names that play a key role in Barbara's life: career and book: Yasir Arafat, Warren Beatty, Menachem Begin, George H. W. Bush, George W. Bush, Jimmy Carter, Fidel Castro, Hugo Chávez, Bill and Hillary Clinton, Roy Cohn, the Dalai Lama, Princess Diana, Katharine Hepburn, King Hussein, Angelina Jolie, Henry Kissinger, Monica Lewinsky, Richard Nixon, Rosie O'Donnell, Christopher Reeve, Anwar Sadat, John Wayne. The list goes on, and on.

Barbara Walters has spent a lifetime auditioning for her bosses at the TV networks for millions of viewers, for the most famous people in the world, and even for her own daughter, with whom she has had a difficult but ultimately quite wonderful and moving relationship. This book, in some ways, is her final audition, as she fully opens up both her private and public lives. In doing so, she has given us a story that is heartbreaking and honest, surprising and fun sometimes startling and always fascinating Barbara Walters Dennis Abrams,2010 Barbara Walters is the most unexpected of television pioneers The daughter of a nightclub owner she possessed a pronounced Boston accent and a slight speech impedimentOComaking her an unlikely candidate for a career in the polished world of television journalism especially at a time when jobs for women in television news were few and far between Yet in her nearly 50 year career Barbara Walters has broken barriers for women journalists everywhere As the first female cohost of the Today show and the first coanchor of a nightly news show she has helped to reshape not only the role of women in television news but also the perception of women in society at large Read more about this pioneering role model for generations of female journalists in Barbara Walters Television Host and Producer Barbara Walters Audition Barbara Walters,2008 Tribute Michael Frziell,Robert Schnakenberg,2023-01-25 She s was television trailblazer with a unique view all her own Read the incredible true story of Barbara Walters rise from the daughter of a nightclub promoter to the pinnacle of TV journalism Learn about her legendary interviews her battles with sexism and the men she loved and lost along the way Learn about this legend Barbara Walters, TV's Superlady Barbara Lewis,Dan Lewis,1976 Barbara Walters Best Interviews ,1994 Jet ,1984-03-05 The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news
