Ethical Issues in Drug Testing, Approval, and Pricing Baruch A. Brody, 1995 Although most developed countries have extensive regulations governing the testing approval and marketing of new drugs there are major gaps in these regulations In this compelling new volume Dr Brody uses the example of the development of thrombolytic drugs to identify several such gaps Issues addressed include the use of placebo control groups in clinical trials the importance of determining the type of consent that should be obtained for emergency research and ways to avoid conflicts of interest in clinical trials He also discusses topics such as deciding to continue clinical trials or to approve a drug quickly maintaining a proper balance between efficacy and safety in drug approval the pricing of new drugs and considering prices when ordering drugs Dr Brody offers a series of solutions based upon philosophical principles such as respect for individual differences in a liberal society An insightful critique of the current process of approving drugs by the FDA in the United States is also provided The book offers a new way to deal with questions about the cost of drugs And it gives a complete history of a major medical development that saves thousands of lives each year the use of clot dissolving drugs for patients with heart attacks This illuminating work offers the first comprehensive analysis from an ethical perspective of the entire drug development process and it does so while comparing American and European approaches to the process

Universal Design 2016: Learning from the Past, Designing for the Future Jenny Darzentas,Tanja Walsh,David Swallow,Leonardo Sandoval,Andrew Lewis,Christopher Power,2016-09-15 Universal Design is the term used to describe the design of products and environments which can be used by all people to the greatest extent possible without the need for adaptation or specialized design It is not a euphemism for designs for people with a disability but really is about designing to include all people regardless of their age ability cultural background or status in life However it remains the case that many designers and developers fail to understand the need for universal design and lack the skills needed to implement it This book presents papers from the 3rd International Conference on Universal Design UD 2016 held in York UK in August 2016 The theme of the conference was learning from the past designing for the future and it aimed to bring together policymakers practitioners and researchers interested in the different strands of universal design to exchange ideas and best practice review some of the developments in universal design from the last 20 years and formulate strategies for taking the concept of universal design forward into the future The book is divided into two sections Section 1 About Universal Design and Section 2 Universal Design In Practice The book will be of interest to all those whose work involves design from the built environment and tangible products to communication services and systems

Legal Issues in Testing Ruth Axman Childs,1990 Court cases are presented that illustrate some of the issues that courts have dealt with in the area of educational testing While this study was developed primarily for parents the booklet should also help school administrators and testing professionals learn about court cases and precedents relevant to some major issues in educational testing This document is not a comprehensive listing of court cases and precedents on the issue of educational testing and it does not fully discuss the implications of these cases and precedents The study simply provides an overview of the following critical issues each represented by a particular case racial and cultural bias Larry P v Riles linguistic bias in tests Diana v California State Board of Education test results that dominate special education placement decisions Larry P v Riles failure to test sufficiently or at the appropriate time Hoffman v Board of Education of New York City unequal opportunities to learn tested material Debra P v Turlington assignment to ability tracks without educational justification Dillon County School District racial discrimination in the interpretation of college admission test results Regents of the State of California v Bakke gender discrimination in the interpretation of test results Bray v Lee use of the wrong type of test Sharif v New York State Education Department use of test results to deny education Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children v Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and access to student academic records Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 A list of court cases cited in the study is appended TJH
